

PROHIBITION BOTHERS
PARTY CONVENTIONS

Washington — Party conventions held in five states emphasize the plexities of the prohibition issue and its effect on the political campaign, which has it to crystalize its issues.

The business expression is the moral argument of the Democrats while the Republicans, particularly in Indiana on Thursday, sought a device of the Hoover administration steps taken in an effort to bring out recuperation of the nation's finances.

Connecticut Democrats, as well as Illinois, Democrats, came to the platform planks proposing repeal of the eighteenth amendment and it looks now as though out all the Democratic conventions northern states will adopt somewhat the same attitude.

The Republicans are ill at ease over the issue in New York and Massachusetts as well as in Ohio, where the Hoover administration is or less involved because a dry plank has been prepared after Senator Fess, Republican national chairman, made the keynote speech. Division of opinion exists among the delegates to the state convention in the prospect, however, that the same viewpoint will prevail.

MAY PUSH LOCAL OPTION
In New York, the prospective candidate for governor on the Republican ticket, U. S. Attorney Tuttle, has on conferring with Ogden Mills, to run for governor last time and now under secretary of the treasury, in an effort to develop the kind prohibition plank needed for the Republican state convention. Mr. Tuttle is confronted with the problem of the same time of tanning the support of those leaders who represent dry communities the state. Local option, the favorite device of years ago, may come out into the party platforms this year in states where sentiment is divided.

The suggestion made in the Ohio Republican state convention that a solution be adopted inviting President Hoover to dedicate the Harding monument at Marion has its political significance. The tomb has been ready some time. Mr. Coolidge did not to Marion and Mr. Hoover has asked to go but has not indicated what he will do about it. He is expected on Oct. 2 and Fred Warren, former state chairman, wants Hoover to visit Marion the same day.

Aside from the fact that the president has already scheduled his departure from Cleveland and probably will not be able to arrange it, the chances are that the resolution, either passed or side-tracked, will give the question of a presidential visit to Marion and keep it revived some time.

General inference has been made to the political reputation of the Harding regime is such that any seches extolling the Harding regime in public life is bound to furnish ammunition in local Ohio politics. Mr. Hoover may go to Marion the dedication, as he has never located any unwillingness to attend, but he reserves the privilege of doing the date. It probably will be after the congressional elections.

DOUBLE TO START PARIS FLIGHT NEXT OCT. 9
Newark, N. J. — (P) — William S. McLaren and Mrs. Beryl Hart, voted in the drives by representatives to Paris Oct. 9 unless a hurried interference.

McLaren said he had so chartered a plane that he knows to the note where he will be at a given time. He told aviators at the Newark airport last night he plans to leave New York harbor at 6 a. m. Oct. 9, reach Bermuda at 1:31 p. m. Oct. 9, over Brest and Cherbourg at 11:30 a. m. Oct. 11 to reach Paris at 6 a. m., with an elapsed time of 40 hours and 40 minutes and flying in 39 hours and 40 minutes.

CONTRACT FOR SURVEY OF GREEN BAY HARBOR
Green Bay — (P) — The Green Bay harbor commission authorized a contract yesterday for an engineering and economic survey of the Green Bay harbor. The city council has appropriated $10,000 to care for an estimation.

JONES THINKS DRY ISSUE IS NON-PARTISAN

Indicates He Will Take No Action on Question Unless Voters Demand It

BULLETIN
Washington — (P) — Fresh talk of submitting the prohibition question to the state or the people for new decision caused the Anti-Saloon league today to reaffirm its opposition to any such proposal.

F. Scott McBride, superintendent of the dry organization, characterized such a proposal as "impossible and ridiculous."

Seattle — (P) — The following letter, written by United States Senator Wesley L. Jones, of Washington, to John Rea of Tacoma, on Sept. 8, was made public yesterday by Rea.

"I do not consider the declaration of the Republican convention at Bellingham with regard to prohibition as binding on any Republican."

"Prohibition is, and ought to be, a non-partisan question. There are about as many Democratic propensities among Republicans who favor it as there are Republicans who favor it."

"My position, as I have often stated, is this:

"The policy of prohibition is laid down in and made a part of the federal constitution and it is just as much a part of it as any other part of that constitution."

"It can be changed only in one of two ways. First by a national convention called pursuant to the terms of the constitution itself to revise it."

"No one thinks of or has suggested anything of this kind. The other method is to modify or repeal the Eighteenth amendment in exactly the same way that it was adopted, that is, by a constitutional amendment submitted to the various states and ratified by three-fourths of them."

"If the people of the state of Washington want the Eighteenth amendment repealed or modified that is the method to be pursued. This can be followed in the state as I understand it either by a resolution of the state legislature asking that the question of the repeal or modification of the Eighteenth amendment be submitted to them, or this may be done by referendum brought about regularly in accordance with the provisions of our law."

"If such a request should be made by the people of the state either through the legislature or by means of a referendum asking congress to submit such a proposal, I would feel justified in voting not for the adoption of such an amendment but for the submission of such proposal to the people of the state to be passed upon directly by them."

"I would not vote for the adoption of such an amendment but would do everything I could to induce the people to reject it."

"Yours very truly,
(signed) 'Wesley L. Jones.'"

PLANE IS READY FOR TRANSPACIFIC FLIGHT
Sambongi, Japan — (P) — Harold L. Bromley's plane, the "City of Tacoma," was poised tonight atop an improvised ramp at the end of Samishiro beach, ready to hop off at the break of dawn tomorrow for a trans-Pacific hop to Tacoma, Wash.

Although the winds of the Kuriles were not entirely favorable Bromley and his flying companion, Harold L. Bromley, decided to start at once because the weather forecast indicated they might be held up for a week if a week if they did not seize the present opportunity.

Pershing Happy That He Has Been "Just A Soldier"
Washington — (P) — For all the gossip of the years since the war as to his political hopes, General John J. Pershing entered his seventieth birthday today supremely happy that he is and always has been "just a soldier."

"I can say with all sincerity that nothing gives me more happiness than that I have never been drawn into political life," he said.

"I have watched what happens to holders of high political office. I have seen their every word distorted and twisted to find some hidden meaning. I have seen their political supporters picture them as prodigies of wisdom and statesmanship while their opponents at the same time set them out as stupid scoundrels. And I have known them, and know that they were neither the one nor the other, just average Americans."

So Pershing looks back over these 70 years. During and since the war there have been many times when his autobiography as a presidential candidate was talked of among his friends, never with his assent.

He recalled today that once in France, even in the heat of making his army ready for battle, some one said to him that his overseas assignment might make him president some day.

AUTOMOBILE DEATHS EXPECTED TO PASS 36,000 THIS YEAR

Washington — (P) — Based on reports for the first six months of the year the American Motorists association today estimated deaths from automobile accidents this year would reach or surpass the 36,000 mark.

The first six months showed, the association said, an increase of 9 per cent in such deaths over the corresponding period of 1929. The total last year was 33,060. The association indicated an even higher rate of increase might be expected because of an expectation that the last three months will yield a higher proportion than the rest of the year. This happens every year, the report said.

The greatest number of accidents was said to occur between 5 and 6 o'clock in the evening and Sunday was listed as the most dangerous day.

Man Is Near Death After Kick By Cow
Elmer Buelow, 26, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Buelow, Sherwood, is in a critical condition at Theda Clark hospital, Neenah, suffering from injuries received about 10:30 Friday morning when a cow on the Buelow farm kicked him in the side, puncturing his liver. He was chasing the cow into the barnyard, when the animal turned on him and kicked him.

An operation was performed Friday afternoon at the hospital by a Neenah physician, who reports that Buelow's condition is serious. The cow's hoof penetrated the right side, tearing the liver.

ENTERPRISE LEADS IN AMERICA'S RACE
U. S. S. Kane, of America's cup course — By Radio to the Associated Press — The white-hulled Enterprise, queen of American racing yachts, waged a successful defense today through the first hour of her race with the green-hulled Shamrock V for the historic America's cup.

Enterprise was over the line like a thoroughbred racehorse as the starting signal sounded at 11:55 a. m. (E. S. T.) and at the end of an hour still retained a slender margin over the British cup challenger.

In a light wind and over a course shrouded by fog, the two boats raced along, taking advantage of each vagrant puff of air but with the American defender always in the lead. Just before the first hour ended Shamrock V crept up until the two craft were racing almost bow to bow but soon the Enterprise also felt the favoring airs and again drew away.

RICKENBACKER TO GET CONGRESSIONAL MEDAL
Washington — (P) — America's premier fighting flier, Colonel Edward F. Rickenbacker, is to receive next month the highest decoration of his country from President Hoover.

Almost 13 years after the Armistice brought an end to the valorous career in the skies above France of the former king of the automobile speed tracks, he is to have bestowed upon him the congressional Medal of Honor. In recognition of his achievements—including the bringing down of 21 enemy planes, officially credited—one of the most elaborate ceremonies arranged to honor an American war hero is being planned.

POST $500 REWARD FOR THREAT INFORMATION
Stevens Point — (P) — A reward of $500 was posted today with the Stevens Point Daily Journal for information leading to conviction of the person or persons who sent threatening letters to two Stevens Point bankers.

The notes were received by J. W. Dungan of the First National bank and E. A. Oberweiser of the Citizens National bank and the Wisconsin Paper Co. They demanded $10,000.

TROOPS GUARD ROADS, BUILDINGS IN CUBA
Havana — (P) — Fearful of a revolutionary outbreak the government of President Machado has instituted heavy guards along railroads, highways and government buildings throughout the island.

Military forces have been placed at strategic points to watch to the first signs of an uprising. Minor disturbances have been reported in various Cuban provinces during the last two weeks but nothing of a serious nature has occurred so far.

CAMPAIGN OF KOHLER COST HIM $1,540

Statement of Personal Expenditures Filed With Secretary of State

Madison — (P) — In a statement filed with the secretary of state here today, Gov. Walter Kohler reported the personal expenditure of $1,540.17 for his campaign for governor. Obligations of $49.85 were listed.

Nineteen other candidates for state and congressional posts filed expense statements today. Attorney General Reynolds reported expenditures of $1,315.30 and Charles Hammesley, Democrat candidate for governor, listed $1,688.25 as the personal expense of his campaign.

The prohibition party's candidate for governor, Alfred B. Taynton of Dane-co, said he had neither collected nor spent any money during the campaign.

Other expense reports showed the following expenditures:

John M. Nelson, Congress, Third district, $240.10; Philip Lehner, congress, Fifth district, $1,118.96; Gerald Bolleau, congress, Eighth district, $1,008.51; Morley G. Kelly, (Democrat) congress, Sixth district, $78; Gardner Withrow, congress, Seventh district, $567.36; Theodore Dammann, secretary of state, $180.31; Sextus Lindahl, senate, eleventh district, $92.40; H. T. Ames, assembly, Oneida district, $71.05; Charles W. Hutchinson, senate, Seventeenth district, $168.35; N. M. Bohrer (Democrat) assembly, Oneida district, $2.75; Willis P. Jewell (Democrat) assembly, Oneida district, $5.50; J. W. Carow, senate, Twelfth district, $88.87; Charles Lacy, assembly, Iron district, $85.50; William Markham, senate, Thirteenth district, $365.23; Herman L. Kronschmidt, assembly, Oneida district, $64.40; Joseph L. Barber, senate, Twenty-fifth district, $220.10.

RESUME CONSPIRACY CASE NEXT MONDAY
Proceedings Brought to Abrupt Halt by Collapse of Defendant

Seattle — (P) — Trial of the Lyle Whitney prohibition conspiracy case brought abruptly to a halt by the collapse on the witness stand of Earl Corwin, one of the defendants, will be resumed in federal court Monday.

Defense attorneys said they hoped Corwin, who was reported suffering from an incurable disease, would be able to continue his testimony after the weekend recess.

During a brief appearance yesterday on the witness stand, Corwin spoke of his connections with Alfred M. Hubbard, principal government witness, who had testified to giving Corwin a radio as part of the alleged bribery by rum runners to prohibition chiefs. Hubbard had testified he acted as the go-between in the collection and distribution of protection money while serving as an undercover agent in the prohibition office.

Corwin testified the radio was an obsolete model of a type made by Hubbard and given Mrs. Corwin after Hubbard had lived at the Corwin home for some time. Hubbard previously testified the radio was a gift from Roy Olmsted, former liquor runner.

Corwin was preceded on the stand by his co-defendants, Roy C. Lyle, former administrator, William M. Whitney, Lyle's chief assistant, and R. L. Bryant, former agent. All denied the allegations of prosecution witnesses that they had participated in a conspiracy to permit wholesale rum running operations.

HURRICANE HITS NORTH CAROLINA
Tropical Gale Reported Speeding Northeastward Along Shore

Washington — (P) — An intense tropical hurricane which yesterday struck the lower North Carolina coast with great force today apparently was speeding northeastward along the shore with indications that winds of gale force would be felt by noon as far north as Atlantic City.

Storm warnings were posted from Hatteras to Sandy Hook but expectations were it would miss part of the Virginia shore at least.

The weather bureau reported the disturbance small in diameter and moving northeastward about 15 miles an hour. It first struck Cape Lookout, North Carolina, yesterday with a 12-mile an hour wind. By night it had reached Hatteras and from there appeared to be moving across the expanse of ocean towards the Delaware and Jersey shore.

The hurricane crippled communication between the North Carolina coast towns and outlying areas but no loss of life was reported and reliable information indicated the damage was confined to broken wires, unrooted trees and a few demolished buildings.

WEDDING BELLS ARE ALSO USED NOW IN RACKET BUSINESS

New York — (P) — Even wedding bells are used to make a racket now.

Miss Ruth Miller, 21, and blonde, advertised she would marry any man who would give her $1,000 to insure comfort for her sick and aged mother for the rest of her life.

Frank Margraiti, police said, responded, giving Miss Miller $500 the remainder to be paid on the wedding day which was set for the near future.

Then came Sukeji Sujiki, a Japanese chef. He made a down payment of $750 with the same agreement.

Sujiki and Margraiti met when they went to the Queens address where they had interviewed Miss Miller. They had come in response to a telegram saying "mother ill." But there was nothing they could do about it for the house was deserted.

Police arrested Jack Madeson, his wife, Rose and her sister, Della Messir, who were held on charges of grand larceny as members of the conspiracy.

Miss Miller is missing.

FOOD SUPPLY AS LARGE AS EVER IN U. S.
Washington — (P) — As much food as ever is expected to be produced in the country this year—and perhaps more—despite the drought.

Total shipments of the important fruits and vegetables have averaged 20,000 carloads a week, nearly as many as a year ago, and the department of agriculture, releasing new production figures today, predicted average or larger than average supplies of the chief food crops.

Tomatoes, perhaps, have supplied the greatest upset for drought damage estimates. The total commercial production, including the late crop now forecast at 4,887,000 bushels, was indicated to be 7 per cent or 1,878,000 bushels greater than in 1929.

In the commercial canning vegetable group, the production of snap beans, sweet corn, green peas and tomatoes was estimated at 2,281,000 tons or nearly 7 per cent more than the average yearly production.

The 1930 crop of onions was indicated to be nearly 5 per cent larger than the 1929 production and about one-fourth greater than average. Production of both late domestic and foreign cabbage was reported to be larger than a year ago, the domestic crop by about 4 per cent and Danish cabbage by 6 per cent. Cabbage for kraut was estimated at 144,000 tons compared with 140,300 tons in 1929 on an acreage about one-fifth larger.

No appreciable shortage was indicated in the commercial supply of any of the later summer, fall and storage vegetables other than potatoes and sweet potatoes.

There is a deficiency of late potatoes in 15 states, but there is a surplus in 19 states and except for the last year or two the production of potatoes has been in excess of the demand and often piled up a burdensome surplus on the market. Farmers always have made money on a short potato crop and lost on a large one.

Increases over last year were indicated for most fruit and nut crops, including apples, peaches, pears, plums, prunes, grapes and almonds.

START FIRST LEG OF TRANSATLANTIC FLIGHT
St. Hubert Airport, Montreal — (P) — Captain Errol Boyd and Lieutenant Harry Connor hopped off at 7:39 a. m. (E. S. T.) today in the monoplane Columbia for Harbor Grace, N. F., on the first leg of a projected trans-Atlantic flight to England.

C. E. Broughton, editor of the Sheboygan Press, Sheboygan, in an editorial in his newspaper on Friday challenges the Committee of Fifteen to produce a true report of the liquor situation in Appleton and expresses a willingness to make his own investigation in this city and he says that "the will build up a case strong enough to make some of the 'drys' wonder whether the hurricane was in Santo Domingo or Appleton."

Mr. Broughton contends that Appleton isn't any different than Sheboygan or any other city so far as the sale of liquor is concerned, except that Appleton liquor might be a "little smoother" than the kind sold in Sheboygan. In fact Mr. Broughton says he already has proof of drinking in a place not mentioned in the report of the Committee of Fifteen.

Here is Mr. Broughton's editorial in full:

Over in Appleton they hired the services of a skilled investigator and appointed a select committee of fifteen to ascertain whether conditions were as bad as reported, under prohibition. From the report of the secret committee we print this pertinent paragraph:

"Talking and reporting about bad liquor conditions are done almost wholly by people who want to sell or use liquor. 'Dry' citizens are demoralized by the automatic, exaggerated, or lying propaganda of the 'wet' newspapers. But these papers have so exaggerated their case that, under the lead of President Hoover, good citizens are returning to the fight against liquor."

Here we have an admission of the Sheboygan Press' agreement with other newspapers and a well-ventured "dollar to doughnuts" that we can go into Appleton and prove every one of the charges that the so-called "wet" newspapers have made. We will do more than this—we will go into Appleton and inside of twenty-four hours we will build up a case strong enough to make some of these "drys" wonder whether the hurricane was in Santo Domingo or Appleton.

Appleton and whether these eruptions in Italy were not closer to Appleton than at first reported. We will show that they are drinking at the country club in Appleton and have been all summer, in violation of the Volstead act and we have the proof that far now. From the same report of this committee of fifteen we quote as follows:

"Liquor is sold in many places and in several different ways, but conditions are not as bad as irresponsible reports and talk on the streets would indicate. Four-fifths of such talk is either false or gross exaggeration. Liquor is sold usually only to 'safe' people, touched for by the bartenders."

"For the sake of Mike, and this from a committee of fifteen in a community that speaks for law and order. They find that the 'wets' newspapers have been misrepresenting and then they turn around and report that liquor is sold 'usually only to safe' people vouched for by the bartenders." We will venture a bet with the editor of the Appleton Post-Crescent that we can prove every contention that the so-called "wet" newspapers have made, for Appleton isn't a bit different from Sheboygan or any other city under prohibition. They may have a little smoother liquor, in fact, we have a friend over there who tells about the wonderful liquor that he has. Sheboygan Press, outspoken, has no apologies to offer as to its attitude and serves this notice upon the committee of fifteen of Appleton. Further than this, we will be glad to match our wit against the committee of fifteen on a true report of conditions in Appleton and like a golf match, we will take them on any time or any place.

TOUR PLANES LEAVE WAUSAU THIS MORNING

Harry Russell in Lead as Ships Take Off on Next Leg of Flight

Wausau — (P) — Their noses pointed toward Duluth, Minn., 18 airplanes of the 4,500-mile national reliability air tour took off today at the Wausau airport for Eau Claire, their next stop. They expected to make Duluth this afternoon.

Faced by Harry Russell in his trimotor Ford, the fliers landed here from Davenport, Ia., yesterday. John Livingston, Aurora, Ill., winner of last year's flight, led the squadron over the 230-mile jump from Iowa and grounded here an hour and 30 minutes after the takeoff. Russell led the 18 with 7,750 points.

Points, Capt. Ray Collins, manager of the tour said, are based on elapsed time, weight, takeoff and landing abilities and so on. George Haldemann, piloting a Bellanca, and M. E. Zeller with his Ford tri-motor were second and third respectively.

An airplane piloted by William Gould, Hartford, Conn., accompanying the tour, crashed in making a landing at Green Bay, Wis., airport last night and was damaged badly. Gould escaped unhurt. He flew to Green Bay from Wausau to meet another plane carrying spare parts for Zeller's airplane.

Two crackups marked landings at Davenport yesterday. An airplane piloted by Lee Schoenhair, assistant tour scorer, scored over, damaging its wings and propeller and another piloted by Walter Leese, crashed with its brakes locked. All occupants were uninjured.

Official standings, announced by Capt. Collins, follow:

Harry Russell, Ford tri-motor, 7,750 points.

George Haldemann, Bellanca, 7,307.

M. E. Zeller, Ford tri-motor, 7,278.

Walter Veech, Curtiss, 7,184.

Art Davis, Waco, 7,135.

John Livingston, Waco, 6,742.

Wesley Smith, Bellanca, 6,717.

Eddie Schneider, Cessna, 6,108.

Les Bowman, Waco, 5,794.

Truman Wadlow, Travelaire, 5,691.

J. B. Story, Reearwin, 5,619.

Bart Stevenson, Monocoupe, 5,405.

Larry Ruth, American Eagle, 5,133.

Walter Carr, Cabin-Aire, 4,867.

Charles W. Meyers, Great Lakes, 4,732.

Miss Nancy Hopkins, Kitty-Hawk, 4,725.

Harvey Mummert, Mercury, 3,953.

George Neissner, Sikorsky Amphibian, 3,803.

OPPOSE MOVE TO CUT RATES ON FURNITURE
Washington — (P) — Examiners recommended to the interstate commerce commission today that proposals by furniture shippers for lower freight rates on carload lots of furniture be disapproved.

This was only one of a number of recommendations by Examiners Berry and Barkley after a two year investigation of furniture freight rates. The proceedings were begun under the Hoch-Smith resolution but the examiners held in effect that this resolution, designed to give lower freight to agriculture and depressed industries, was not applicable toward lowering furniture rates.

A proposal by Memphis furniture interests for commodity distance rates on carload lots of furniture also was disapproved. Examiner Barkley said no evidence was presented to support the proposal.

Proposed increased rates on furniture frames in carload lots, less than carload lots in southern and western territory were also disapproved. Proposed cancellation of carload commodity rates now existing on normal furniture between points in central territory was found justified.

Rates charged on carload shipments of theater chairs from Chicago to points in Oklahoma and Texas were found to be reasonable in the past but unreasonable for the future in view of rates recently prescribed.

ARREST THREE MEN IN DAKOTA BANK HOLDUP
Omaha Neb. — (P) — Two men who admitted taking part in the holdup yesterday of the Harrisburg, S. D., state bank, were arrested here early today by police detectives. They implicated a third man who was arrested and booked on a charge of investigation.

The three gave their names as Joe Davis, Sioux Falls, S. D., Leslie Carter, Lake Milton, Minn., and Walter Erickson Rockford, Ills.

SHEBOYGAN EDITOR LAUGHS AT COMMITTEE OF 15 REPORT

HORSE'S WIND AS GOOD AS OWNER'S, SO HE WINS SUIT

Clearfield, Pa. — (P) — "Why that horse's wind," said Frank Marasky, thumping his suspenders, "is as good as mine."

So Percy Axel, whose only doubts were concerned with the animal's breathing, made the purchase.

Alas, alas, Axel discovered the horse had developed the heaves. "Wind as good as his, ask, ask," muttered Axel, recalling Marasky's assurances.

But in court, where Axel brought suit for damages, he learned that Marasky had not lied. Marasky is suffering from asthma.

Axel lost the suit.

TAKES PAPERS OF DELEGATES TO ASSEMBLY
Action Is Tantamount to Recognition of Two New Governments

ARGENTINE IS SILENT

Revolutionary Leaders in Latter Country Fail to Make Overtures

Geneva — (P) — While other nations are holding in abeyance their recognition of the three new revolutionary governments in South America, the League of Nations has given what is tantamount to recognition of two of those governments. Credentials of representatives of the new administrations in Peru and Bolivia have been accepted by the assembly of the League of Nations, and their representatives now are participating in the assembly session.

No delegates from the Argentine have taken any part in the league's work thus far this year, so the Buenos Aires government has not submitted itself to the same test.

The revolutionary government of Bolivia took over its predecessor's delegation to the assembly headed by Costa de Reis. The new government at La Paz notified the league it wished to continue its cooperation in the league—and its delegation was accepted by the assembly.

The case of Peru is somewhat different and more striking. Mariano Cornejo was spokesman for Peru's former regime at Geneva but he was "fired" by the new rulers along with the entire delegation except Jose Maria Barreto, the delegation's former secretary.

Barreto, of instruction from the new government at Lima, headed the delegation, indeed the delegation itself, and was seated in Cornejo's place in both the council and assembly.

Cornejo came to Geneva a week ago to test the case.

URGES TARIFF CUT
Negotiations between the nations for reduction of tariff walls should, in view of Europe's unhappy economic condition, be begun as soon as possible. William Graham, president of the British board of trade, today urged in addressing the assembly of the League of Nations.

Such negotiations, he said, are provided for in the commercial treaty concluded at the so called tariff truce conference last March. An agreement entered into by the signatories of this commercial treaty will expire next April 1, and he called on the parties to the treaty to carry out their promises and clear the way for reduction of customs duties.

"Protectionism and economic nationalism never will solve the world's economic problems," the British economist declared. "More and more it is becoming necessary to sound the international note in seeking the world's economic welfare."

Giuseppe Motta, Swiss delegate, in treating the problem of Europe's economic woes, voiced desire that the American people should contribute not only their good will but their practical aid in achieving economic reorganization of Europe.

He said that European people have made great contribution to the entire world of their stores of "spiritual commodities" in tradition, art, and other elements of culture, and that it would be appropriate then for the western world to lend their overflowing physical powers to bring prosperity to the historically older countries.

London — (P) — The British government has not yet reached a decision as to recognition of the three new revolutionary governments in South America, particularly that in the Argentine, but it is understood in official quarters that the matter is receiving the close attention of competent authorities and that an early official announcement may be expected.

MOOSE AT GREEN BAY SURRENDER CHARTER
Green Bay — (P) — The Green Bay lodge of the Loyal Order of Moose, numbering 700 members, surrendered its charter to national officers today and announced that its club building will be abandoned. The lodge was reported $44,000 in debt, largely on the building.

FREED FROM JAIL, MAN ROBS CHEESE FACTORY
Madison — (P) — Taking advantage of his freedom from the county jail, granted under the provision of the Huber law, Otto Schneider, 42, robbed a cheese company today. He was sentenced to five years in the state prison.

Last week Schneider was sentenced to serve six months in the county jail for serving a term of buttermilk. To permit him to retain his job, the judge ordered him to report at the jail for night only.

Schneider's latest escapade resulted in the theft of a calculating machine and some samples of merchandise.

WON'T PERMIT IRIGOYEN TO QUIT COUNTRY

Aged Former Official Is Held on Board Cruiser Off Buenos Aires Roads

Buenos Aires —(AP)— An official government communique today said the deposed president, Dr. Hipolito Irigoyen, was under arrest and would not be allowed to abandon the country.

The communique cleared the status of the aged former official, who was taken from prison last Thursday and placed aboard the cruiser, General Belgrano, presumably for transportation to Montevideo or other place of exile.

The General Belgrando did not reach Montevideo despite official notification of the government there from its ambassador at Buenos Aires that it was enroute to Uruguay. Later outgoing steamers reported that the cruiser was at anchor off Buenos Aires roads.

Arrest of the deposed president aroused some speculation as to an ostensible change of heart in the new chief executive, General Jose Francisco Uriburu, who in earlier interviews had said Dr. Irigoyen would be allowed to go where he wished.

The national supreme court issued an extraordinary decree today affirming legality of the de facto government, and exonerating its use of the military as necessary to assure peace and order in the nation. The government was said to have decided itself to maintenance of the constitution and fundamental laws of the state.

The finance ministry said today that a $50,000,000 loan from the Chatham-Phoenix Corporation of New York, expiring Oct. 1, would be renewed.

JUNIOR CHAMBER WORKS HARD ON VOTE CAMPAIGN

Every effort is being made by the Junior Chamber of Commerce in its "Get Out and Vote" campaign to get as many voters to the polls next Tuesday as possible. The slogan adopted by the Junior group is "Vote As You Please, But Vote." Thursday evening a group of members painted their slogan on the sidewalks on the principal streets of the downtown district.

They also have asked local manufacturing plants to cooperate by blowing the whistles on the mills at 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon as reminder to all those that have not voted up to that time. Churches also have been asked to cooperate by making special announcements.

TRANSFER WALTERS TO SAULT STE. MARIE

Newton C. Walters, former assistant chief clerk at the government engineering office here on S. Onondaga, has been promoted to office of assistant chief clerk at Sault Ste. Marie. He will check traffic between Lake Superior and Lake Huron. He has been succeeded here by Fred Schwalenberg.

URGE DEMOCRATS TO CAST BALLOTS IN OWN PRIMARY

Balliet Scores Republicans for Trying to Attract Democratic Votes

Outagamie-co Democrats were urged today by Stephen Balliet, chairman of the Outagamie County Democratic committee, to ignore the statement of prominent Republicans who claim Democrats are supporting their ticket and to vote the Democratic ticket.

He called attention to the fact that in the last few days there have been several announcements from prominent Republicans who are attempting to lure Democrats to vote the Republican ticket. He pointed out that the Democrats have a man who can fill the governor's chair as capably as either Phil La Follette or Walter J. Kohler, and urged the Democrats to vote their own ticket.

"It is an unusual procedure," Mr. Balliet said. "The Republicans are imploring Democrats to vote the Republican ticket while at the same time this same party placed on the statute books a law obliging candidates to poll a certain number of votes in the primary election or they cannot be candidates in the regular election."

In Outagamie-co, due to the large vote cast for Alfred E. Smith in the last election, it is necessary for Democratic candidates for offices to poll at least 350 votes. If they fail to receive that many they cannot be candidates at the regular election.

"As chairman of the Outagamie-co Democrats I appeal to the members of this party to remember that our candidates must receive at least 350 votes and for that reason I urge them to vote the Democratic ticket. We are not interested in the factional fights of the Republican party."

Adopt Old Schedule

City hall employees will go back on the winter schedule from 8 o'clock in the morning to noon and from 1:15 to 5 o'clock in the afternoon, Monday morning. During the summer city hall offices were open from 7:30 to noon and from 1 o'clock to 4 o'clock.

Sunday morning. Local theatres will run special trailer announcements, it is reported.

"Ginger Jake" Appears To Possess Color Affinity

Cincinnati, O.—(AP)—A new freak of "ginger jake," a mysterious color affinity that affects chickens and men alike, has turned up in research at the University of Cincinnati.

In the medical department the ingredients of this liquor, which caused about 300 cases of paralysis about Cincinnati a few months ago, are under searching analysis.

It was noted at the time of this Cincinnati outbreak that nearly all the victims were white, negroes constituting less than three per cent. At the same time reports brought to the University, when analysis of samples of the liquor was undertaken, stated that much of the drink had been sold in negro districts.

F. J. Andrews, who is conducting the research, tried samples of "the drink" on monkeys, rabbits and white rats, but all these animals were immune to paralysis. Then he tried it on chickens, the bird family having a well known susceptibility to poison.

He gave it to white chickens and every one developed either paralysis or symptoms of paralysis.

But when he gave it to black chickens not one of them showed a symptom of paralysis.

Scientists who attended the chemical meetings here this week made a guess that the paralysis of ginger jake is a function of pigmentation meaning that the coloring matter in pigment, that makes the complexion may in some manner combine with something in the drink to give the whites a special poison.

Mr. Andrews says the experiments are too incomplete to throw any light on these guesses.

YANCEY STRANDED AS PLANE CRASHES

Flier and Two Companions Uninjured in Accident in Bahamas

New York —(AP)— Their plane wrecked and burned, Captain Lewis A. Yancey and two companions were stranded today on a little island in the Bahamas on the way home from a tour of Latin America. All escaped unhurt.

News of the accident was received here in radiograms from Yancey to his wife and to Isadore Goldberg, president of the Pilot and Radio Flight company, sponsors for the flight.

"Ship cracked up and burned. No one injured," Yancey said in his message to Mrs. Yancey.

His message to Goldberg said: "Forced landing—Exuma Island. Trained over and burned plane. Complete loss. No one injured."

As the message was sent by way of Georgetown, Trinidad, assumed the forced landing had been made on Great Exuma Island.

Yancey, Zeh-Bouch, radio operator and Emil Burgin, pilot, departed May 14 from here. They flew to Havana; Merida, Yucatan; Vera Cruz, Mexico; over Central America, across the Andes to Buenos Aires from where they began the homeward flight.

During the flight Yancey experimented with long distance radio communication from the plane, sending and receiving messages from New York and on one occasion establishing radio telephone communication with Sydney, Australia.

4,118 CHILDREN ARE ENROLLED IN PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Is Increase Over Enrollment of 1929, Board Announces

The total public school enrollment, announced at the meeting of the board of education meeting Friday night, is 4,118, compared to 3,822 last year. Of this number 974 are in the high school, 70 more than last year. Nineteen crippled children are enrolled at the Crippled Children's school.

Merlon Seims, New London, was engaged by the board to fill the manual training position at the high school formerly held by George Cooper, who has resigned to take a position at the Country Day School, Milwaukee. Mr. Seims, a graduate of Oshkosh State Normal school, has taught for five years.

It was voted to again permit the teachers in each building to decide whether or not the schools would close for the state teachers convention in Milwaukee Oct. 30, 31, and Nov. 1, and the Northeastern Wisconsin Teachers convention.

Bills aggregating $37,000 were approved. Besides all the usual summer repairs this amount includes bills amounting to $21,650 incurred through the installation of the new heating and ventilating system at First Ward school.

Miss Carrie Morgan, assistant superintendent of schools, states that this year the schools can operate until the latter part of October without borrowing money. After this month's bills are paid there will be a balance of $43,806. After teacher salaries, which approximate $25,000, are paid, there will be a balance on Oct. 1 of $23,806, which will tide over the system until the salary checks are again issued.

Next year, if no large repairs like the new heating system in First Ward school are necessary, Miss Morgan hopes to run the school up to December without borrowing and the year after it may not be necessary to borrow at all. Loans made in the fall of the year by the school board are merely temporary loans until the tax money is turned over by the city treasurer.

All school buildings, repaired and cleaned under the supervision of William Eggert during the summer, were inspected by the maintenance committee and found to be in excellent condition.

225 BATTERIES DUMPED IN WATER AFTER COLLISION

A shipment of 225 storage batteries, on their way from Minneapolis to Chicago, took an unwanted cold water plunge about 7:30 this morning on Highway 10, between Fremont and Waukegan, when the trailer on which they were being hauled struck a culvert and overturned, dumping the entire load into Mosquito creek. The batteries were being hauled on a trailer behind a truck of the Cushman Delivery company of Chicago. The name of the driver was not learned. The truck was on its way to Chicago when the trailer jumped the concrete curbing at the creek and tipped over. The trailer landed on top of the batteries in about two feet of water. The truck driver, with the aid of passersby, piled the batteries back on the truck and continued to Chicago. Many of the batteries were smashed.

TWO BANDITS ROB SOFT DRINK PARLOR OF $95

The soft drink parlor operated by Ed Jandry at Edillon was robbed of $95 about 10:30 Friday night by two well dressed young men, armed with revolvers. A customer, Joseph Schwallier was robbed of $50 in cash, making the total loot $145.

The two young men sauntered into the soft drink parlor shortly before 10:30 and ordered drinks. After finishing them they pulled their guns and ordered the two men to hold up their hands. They sped away in a large sedan, which they parked with the motor running in front of the place of business.

CHAMBER DIRECTORS OFFER COOPERATION IN RUBBISH REMOVAL

Will Back Mayor Goodland, Jr., in Settling City Dump Case

Appleton Chamber of Commerce directors at their monthly dinner meeting at Hotel Northern, Friday afternoon, unanimously decided to give their united cooperation to Mayor John Goodland, Jr., and the board of public works in stopping the dumping of rubbish in the ravine north of W. Lawrence-st, and south of College-ave.

The appeal to the chamber was made by Harvey Schlitz, president, who held a conference with Mayor Goodland and the board recently. An effort is to be made by the chamber to have merchants along W. College-ave discontinue the practice of dumping rubbish in the ravine in back of their places of business.

Plans for renewing efforts to have the city construct an incinerator, also were discussed. Recommendations to have the city administration include appropriations for a new incinerator in the 1931 budget will be made by the chamber in the near future, it is reported.

The board also voted to cooperate with the Junior Chamber of Commerce in their state-wide "Good Will Tour." An invitation to directors to attend the closing banquet of the tour here late next month, was presented by Fred Bendt, president of the junior chamber.

The monthly financial report was read by William Strassburger, financial secretary. He reported that collections during the past month were good.

LYONS APPOINTED ON STATE COMMITTEE

W. L. Lyons, city poor commissioner, has been appointed to the committee of the Wisconsin Conference of Social Work. The group will meet in Madison on Oct. 8 to discuss the present law and proposed changes. Mr. Lyons has returned from Milwaukee, where he attended the annual meeting of the Wisconsin association of Public Relief officials at Hotel Pfister. Members of the poor committee of the county board also attended.

The next meeting of the association, June 22, 23 and 24, will be held in Appleton.

CHARGE KOHLER WITH VIOLATING CORRUPT ACT

Madison —(AP)— If Gov. Kohler should be reelected John W. Reynolds today said he would initiate prosecution against him for violation of the corrupt practices act. He said this is a radio address in his campaign for reelection as attorney general.

"Governor Kohler is well aware of this, and is giving special attention to the attorney generalship, and to me as the Progressive candidate," Reynolds said. "He is trying to weaken me by shedding crocodile tears for one candidate in the hopes of a real progressive split, and supporting his own running mate, whose name appears on all the Kohler literature, of which there is a super abundance. He wants his man elected so that having failed to get the supreme court, to repeal the corrupt practices act, he may control the attorney general's office, and so nullify its enforcement."

Waukesha —(AP)— A memorial service for the late Mrs. Harvey J. Frame, state president of the Federation of Women's clubs, will be conducted in connection with the annual state convention at Eau Claire, Oct. 7-9. Mrs. H. M. Youmans, club leader, said today.

REGION MAY SPLIT OVER SCHNELLER'S CHANCE AT OFFICE

Report Some Vets Oppose Candidacy of Neenah Man for National Job

A break within the ranks of state members of the American legion and vision of the vets into a Schneller faction and an anti-Schneller faction, seen before the annual national convention of the ex-service men at Boston Oct. 6, 7 and 8.

Col. Frank J. Schneller, one time commander of the state department, a candidate for the office of national commander, as he was last year. The Rev. Joseph N. Barnett, Shkosh, pastor, is a candidate for the office of national chaplain and herein lies the trouble.

State veterans do not believe two men from Wisconsin will or can be named to national offices. And because Col. Schneller is in the race for the highest office they figure that the Rev. Mr. Barnett should withdraw from the race for the national chaplain's job.

Last month at the state convention at Sheboygan, both men were endorsed for the national offices they sought, skillful manipulation of the convention sessions being necessary to prevent an open break on the subject. However, the smouldering feud finally broke out at a second district convention at Hartford a few days ago and although Col. Farland, new state commander, points out that the state delegation to the national convention is undivided and can vote for anyone, indications are the state battle will be going merrily before long.

LAYS FOUNDATION
For the last three years, Col. Schneller's friends point out he has been building up an organization to bring about election to the national office. In Paris three years ago, he was mentioned as a possible candidate and friends of Rev. Mr. Barnett say the latter withdrew from the chaplain race to help Schneller.

Because Protestants, Catholics and Jews have been named to the national chaplain post in different years and because it now is time for a Protestant chaplain, the Rev. Mr. Barnett has entered the race. Col. Schneller has been building up his organization in the meantime, last year making a tour of the west and south and gave way to a southern candidate for commander so that this year he might get that section's support. His friends claim he is almost a "sure thing" for the leader of the veterans.

With two Wisconsin men up for national offices one of them or both of them may be defeated. Col. Schneller's friends therefore have asked Barnett to withdraw and he has flatly refused. First indication that Wisconsin vets were not solid for Schneller came last spring at Wisconsin Rapids when a resolution endorsing F. Ryan Duffy, Fond du Lac, for commander, was placed before the eighth district and approved. It is said the resolution was presented when Schneller men had left and that since the man who introduced it has been working for Schneller.

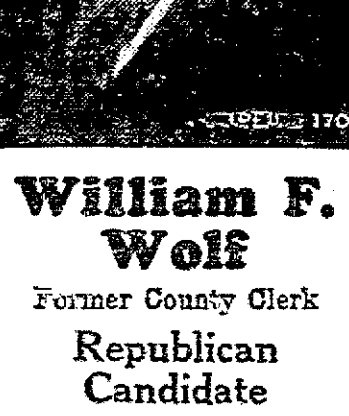

The Rev. Mr. Barnett's friends say he has given way to Schneller on past occasions and now will look out for himself and no one else. Col. Schneller is well known nationally in legion circles. He started and put over the safety program for children which has become a national project. In the last few years he has been chairman of the state poppy program and has built it up to a point where it is highly successful and is helping the veterans in hospitals and finances the state service department.

Dr. Charles A. Briggs, new superintendent of the Appleton district of the Methodist church will arrive in Appleton next Tuesday. Dr. Richard Evans, district superintendent for the past five years, will leave the next day for Janesville, where he will become pastor of the Methodist church.

Dr. Briggs, who was head of the Kenosha Methodist church up to the time of his appointment to the district superintendency, has held a number of pastorates, among them Chattanooga, Tenn., and Racine. Dr. and Mrs. Briggs and two daughters, will live in the parsonage provided for the district superintendent at 319 N. Lave-st.

District superintendents in the Methodist conference are appointed by the bishop every year. However, no superintendent can serve more than six terms. Dr. Evans, who finished his fifth term last year, wished to return to a pastorate this year rather than wait until completing his sixth year as superintendent.

A Vital Message From August W. Laabs Republican Candidate for Register of Deeds

My opponent appeals to you, "Why change?" Public officers are expected to serve the public. You expect of them the best and most efficient service. You constantly seek to improve your private business. Why ought you not change public officers when you are convinced that such a change will render you better service? True my opponent has been in the court house for twenty-two years, four years as sheriff and then eighteen as Register of Deeds. I can also point to many years of public service. I have served the city of Appleton as alderman for six years and I have been chairman of the Town of Grand Chute and member of the county board for the past four years. With my past record as public servant, I assure you that I am willing to serve the public as Register of Deeds, giving that efficient and courteous treatment, which the public has a right to expect, and further that I will charge the rates legally prescribed by law and no more.

Beauty Treatment Is Advocated By Lawns

There is no nature in the home grounds that is more of an asset to the general beauty of the place than lovely, green turf, with a fine stand of grass. Often a dry summer will leave the lawn in very poor condition in the early fall. As fall is Nature's time for sowing grass seed, it is well to take advantage of this opportunity and give the lawn a beauty treatment to restore its youthfulness.

Where the grass is thin and poor, a general renovating and seeding is in order. Take an ordinary garden rake and file the teeth down so that they are very pointed and sharp. With this rake give the lawn a thorough combing, removing all old grass and weeds and loosening the soil to some extent on the surface.

After this "facial" apply a commercial fertilizer that is rich in nitrogen and give the lawn a top-dressing with rich soil which contains considerable vegetable matter or humus. This top dressing may be very thin but it will fill up the little irregularities in the lawn and provide a seed bed for the new grass seed. This should be sown directly after the top dressing is in place, sowing about one pound of seed to every 300 or 400 square feet of lawn area.

Usually there are plenty of rains in the fall to bring up the seed, but after one good rain has come, sufficient artificial watering should be done to keep the lawn moist at all times until the new grass gets started.

New lawns are prepared and planted in the fall in the same manner

Expect Large Vote In County At Primary Tuesday

FIGHTS GET HOTTER AS END NEARS

Much Interest Shown in Race for Governorship; Sheriff's Race Close

BY H. K. DERUS

Outagamie county voters will go to the polls next Tuesday to choose candidates for county offices and to aid in choosing candidates for various state offices. The primary election is expected to draw out an unusually large vote in the county because of the hot campaigns being waged for several of the county offices and because of the bitter battle between Governor Walter J. Kohler and Philip LaFollette for the governorship.

Just what this county will do for the candidates for governor is a bit uncertain. Of course, both the camps are claiming a majority. In 1928 the county went for Kohler by a margin of 383 votes—and he succeeded in carrying the county only because Appleton voted 2 to 1 for him.

In 1928, however, the conservatives conducted an intensive campaign in the county by Governor Kohler's behalf and this year, at least so far, they have done nothing with the exception of holding a few minor meetings outside the county. Kohler himself hasn't talked here and neither have any of the other conservative candidates for state offices.

On the other hand the Progressives have been unusually active. LaFollette has spoken here—and to a good sized crowd. Sol Levitan, that venerable old vote getter, also talked here. The Progressives are working hard. The Farmer Labor Progressive league is working still harder.

There is the county sheriff's race.

ASSEMBLYMAN FIGHT

Outside of the race for the governorship there doesn't seem to be much interest in the election for state offices—with the exception of the races for the assemblyman's job from the First and Second districts. Both of these fights are claiming attention.

In the first district there are three candidates seeking the office. These are Oscar J. Schmieg, incumbent, and assistant district attorney; Mark Catlin and John A. Koehler. All are from Appleton.

The second district race probably is still more exciting than that in the first. There are more candidates there. Three seek the Republican nomination and John Rohan, Democrat and incumbent, is looking for reelection. The three seeking the G. O. P. favor are William Bay, Kaukauna, R. J. Doersch, Seymour, and P. W. Silverwood, Oneida.

Perhaps the most interest is being shown in the county elections in the race for sheriff where six are seeking the Republican nomination. One Democrat, Martin Verhagen, Kimberly, is in the race. The six Republicans are Otto H. Zuehlke, John Lappen, Fred W. Giese, Peter G. Schwartz, Barney Hoffman and Ralph Lockery. Zuehlke, Schwartz, Lappen, Giese and Verhagen "all have served the county as sheriff before.

The next most important race, at least from the standpoint of interest being shown by the voters, is that under way for the office of district attorney. Stanley A. Staidl, incumbent, seeks reelection on his record. He is opposed by Alfred S. Bradford and Sam Sigman, all on the Republican ticket. F. J. Rooney seeks the Democratic nomination.

ONLY WOMAN

Miss Marie Ziegenhagen, the county's only woman officer, is seeking reelection as treasurer and she faces a stiff battle both in the primary and regular elections. There are three men trying to wrest the Republican nomination from her. They are Earl W. Bates, Michael J. V. Pese and Raymond Voigt, all of Appleton. Peter J. Metz, assessor at Kaukauna, is the only Democratic candidate.

For register of deeds there are two candidates, A. W. Laabs and A. G. Koch. Koch is the incumbent and has held office for 18 years. Laabs is chairman of the town of Grand Chute and these two men are considered astute politicians of the old school and a close race is predicted.

John E. Hantschel, county clerk, faces a fight for reelection. William Wolf is trying to wrest the Republican nomination from his hands. Mr. Hantschel has held office for eight years.

Sydney M. Shannon, clerk of courts, is the only county officer to escape a battle either in the primary or the regular election. He was elected over opposition in 1928 by huge majorities. F. M. Charlesworth, candidate for reelection as county surveyor has no opposition for the Republican nomination but he will have opposition in the regular election when R. M. Connolly, a Democrat, will try to get the job. Dr. H. E. Ellsworth, coroner, is opposed by George R. Greenwood, Kaukauna, for the Republican nomination for that office.

POLICE HERE SEEK THREE STOLEN CARS

Appleton police have been asked to watch for three automobiles stolen within the last week. One is a Chrysler Friday night. The car is painted blue and carries the Wisconsin license D-82 330.

Another car is a 1928 Chevrolet coupe stolen at Marshfield and belongs to Clyde E. Graves of Granton. The motor number is 429225 and the license number C-123 923. A photograph of the owner is in one of the pockets of the stolen car.

The third car was a Ford two-door sedan, 1927 model, and painted dark blue. It was taken at Madison, Sept. 14. The motor number is 1844852, the license number C-123 250.

ORGANIZE NEW GIRL AND BOY SCOUT TROOPS

A new troop of Girl Scouts will be organized at 7:30 Tuesday evening at All Saints Episcopal church. A "Cub" troop will be organized also.

Mrs. L. D. Utts, a captain in the Girl Scout movement, will organize the girls, and the Boy Scout group will be conducted by M. G. Clark, city scout executive, and Floyd Schrader.

The Girl Scout and Boy Scout troops are open to any boy or girl 12 years of the or older, and the "Brownie," or junior girls, and the "Cub," or junior boys groups are open to boys or girls 1 years of age or older.

CANDIDATES FILE EXPENSE ACCOUNTS

Four Report They Spent Nothing in Primary Election Campaign

Four of eighteen candidates for county office who filed their expense accounts Saturday with John E. Hantschel, county clerk, reported the primary has cost them nothing.

DEATHS

MRS. CARMEN GREEN

Mrs. Carmen Greene, 35, died Friday evening at her home at 109 W. Summer-st. She is survived by her widower, one daughter, Florence and one son, Gerald; her father, J. P. Foley; two brothers, Peter, Shawano and Francis, Seymour.

She was a member of the Christian Mothers' society of St. Theresa church.

The body was brought to the Schommer Funeral home Saturday morning from where services will be held at 9:30 Monday morning. Services also will be conducted at 9 o'clock from St. Theresa church, with burial in St. Mary cemetery.

COMERTFORD FUNERAL

Funeral services for William Comertford were held at 8:30 Saturday morning from the residence at 309 E. Harvard-st. and from St. Mary church at 9 o'clock. The Rev. Leo Binder, assisted by the Rev. George Schommer, Mackville and the Rev. Father Stephen of St. Joseph church, officiating. Burial was made in St. Mary cemetery.

Full bearers were Ben Carey, Louis McGilgan, Richard Klotzsch, Olin Earle, Charles McKenney, Peter Merritt, William Fountain and Ed Vaughn.

OTTO ADAMS

Otto Adams, 52, a former resident of Appleton, died at his home at Rhinelander Thursday evening. The funeral will be held on Sunday at Rhinelander.

Survivors of Mr. Adams, who lived in Appleton until about 20 years ago, are one daughter, Mrs. Helen Harrel, Isar, one son, Victor, Seymour; three step daughters, Mrs. Paul Schroeder, Appleton; Mrs. Ed Vreyn, Green Bay; and Mrs. George Verhagen, Niagara, N. D.; and one step son, Joseph Gainer, Mackville. The funeral will be held at 10 o'clock Monday morning from St. Edward church, Mackville, with burial in the parish cemetery.

MRS. MICHAEL GAINOR

Mrs. Michael Gainer, formerly of Mackville, died Thursday noon at Green Bay, where she had been living for the past two years. Survivors are one daughter, Mrs. Helen Harrel, Isar, one son, Victor, Seymour; three step daughters, Mrs. Paul Schroeder, Appleton; Mrs. Ed Vreyn, Green Bay; and Mrs. George Verhagen, Niagara, N. D.; and one step son, Joseph Gainer, Mackville. The funeral will be held at 10 o'clock Monday morning from St. Edward church, Mackville, with burial in the parish cemetery.

EXPECT TO STOP DUMP FIRE ODOR

Believe Blaze Underneath Rubbish Will Be Put Out Soon

Though the cock roach fire in the Superior-st. dump still smolders, relief from the offensive odor and smoke brought on the firing of the dump is in sight. The dump is practically all water soaked, and streams of water are being turned on all sections of the roadway where smoke breaking through the surface indicates fire underneath.

Whether or not there is any relief from the cockroaches is still a question, but it is expected that the application of cockroach exterminator to the districts not affected by the fire will annihilate all refugees from the burning dump.

Two girls employed at the Lutheran Aid building became ill Saturday morning from the effects of the smoke. Because the Lutheran Aid building is right in line with the path of the smoke from the dump, the building is saturated with the smoke, and the girls, who were called to the point where they are experiencing a great deal of discomfort.

PRIMARY TO DECIDE IF WISCONSIN WILL CONTINUE PROGRESS

Kohler Says Election of Progressive Means Returns to Lethargy

Shawano—(P)—The primary election will decide whether Wisconsin will continue to progress, or will revert to the neglect and lethargy of the past. Gov. Walter Kohler said in a campaign speech here last night.

"The accomplishments of the last two years present irrefutable evidence that Wisconsin can progress if released from the yoke of machine politics," Gov. Kohler said.

"Daily, the results of the constructive legislation which was passed and the administrative reforms which were effected at the last session of the legislature have become increasingly apparent.

"It is true that many of these things should have been done years ago under the previous administrations. It is that very act which indicates so-called progressivism' for disregard and neglect of public welfare in the eyes of truly progressive citizens.

"The consolidation of the departments of agriculture, seven state trust fund boards and sixty different purchasing agencies, the reorganization of the highway commission and the bureau of personnel, and the establishment of an executive budget are all milestones in the administrative progress of Wisconsin.

"In legislation, too, it is equally difficult to overlook or ignore the sound constructive achievements of the last two years.

"I am confident that the clear-thinking, level headed and fair citizens of our state will endorse the good which has been accomplished during the past two years."

CIRCUIT COURT TO OPEN MONDAY

Fifteen Cases Listed for Disposal During September Term

Circuit court for Outagamie county will open the September term Monday morning at the court house with Judge Edgar V. Werner, presiding. Court will begin at 11 o'clock at which time the term calendar will be read. The jury will not be present Monday but will be called in on order of the court.

Among the issues of fact for the court is the test suit of the Catholic Home association versus the City of Appleton, to determine whether the association's property, on W. Washington-st. can be taxed.

The case of Karl A. Greunke versus the North American Airways company, for damages resulting from an airplane accident at Whitings airport when a plane owned by the former was wrecked in a ground collision by a plane owned by the latter, will again be tried.

Several months ago a jury found for the Airways company but a supreme court reversed the verdict and ordered the case back to court of original jurisdiction for retrial.

There are seven cases of issue of fact for the court, and eight cases of issue of fact for the jury.

STANDARD OIL CO. WILL SELL TIRES

Announcement has been received here from the Standard Oil company of Indiana that its oil service stations, throughout the midwest, will soon enter the business of selling tires in addition to the sale of gasoline, oils and greases. The company has stations located in Wisconsin, Michigan, Indiana, Illinois, Minnesota, Iowa, Missouri, North Dakota, South Dakota, Iowa and a few other states.

The announcement says that by Oct. 15 tires will have been placed on sale at 1,000 stations in 550 cities and towns in the middle west and as soon as possible all of the 3,200 stations would be equipped to handle tire sales. The stations also will carry a complete line of tire accessories, including tubes, etc. Attendants at each of the filling stations will be trained to take care of tire changing work.

IDEAL WEATHER ON MENU FOR WEEKEND

Ideal weather is on the menu for Appleton and vicinity for the next 24 hours, according to predictions of the weatherman for Saturday night and Sunday. Skies will be clear and the mercury is due for a fall.

The entire middle west, including this vicinity has been kept in a moderate torrid wave during the past 24 hours, which sent the mercury as high as 85 degrees above zero in some sections. Friday afternoon the mercury registered 83 degrees above zero.

Winds are shifting in the west and northwest, a good indication that this vicinity is in for a much needed cooling off.

At 5 o'clock Saturday morning the mercury registered 63 degrees above zero, while at noon it registered 82 degrees above zero.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Vassendorfer and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph B. Kalamazoo, Mich., spent a few days recently in Appleton where they were called by the death of their brother-in-law, Alois Brugg.

DOCTORS RETURN FROM CONVENTION

Appleton doctors have returned from the meeting of the state medical society held at Hotel Schroeder, Milwaukee, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. Dr. E. F. Mielke addressed the group on Thursday afternoon on A Simplification of Our Medical Problems. Others who attended were Dr. Charles Reineck, Dr. William N. Moore, Dr. G. A. Ritchie, Dr. J. B. MacLaren and Dr. L. J. Muehlen.

The state convention was addressed by a large number of nationally and internationally prominent medical men, experts in different phases of the profession.

FRESHMEN HEAR TALKS ON CONDUCT

Class Frolic Is Held Friday Night at Gymnasium

President Henry M. Wriston addressed freshman boys and Dr. R. V. Landis freshman girls on general conduct Saturday morning at Lawrence college. Saturday afternoon Prof. W. F. Riese talked on the technique of study, and Prof. Clipping on How We Do Things at Lawrence. The rest of the afternoon was devoted to conferences, and this evening the entire freshman class will meet for temporary organization.

A frolic for freshmen was held at the Lawrence gymnasium Friday evening with Miss Cecelia Werner in charge of arrangements.

Sunday morning the freshmen will attend religious services in Appleton churches at 11 o'clock in the morning, and a vesper service at All Saints Episcopal church at 4 o'clock in the afternoon. At 5:30 the freshmen will be entertained at receptions at Memorial Presbyterian, First Methodist, First Baptist, First Reformed, and Trinity English Lutheran churches.

CARLSON TO ADDRESS LIONS CLUB MEMBERS

Dr. G. W. Carlson, who returned recently from Europe, where he spent last year studying in Vienna, will be the principal speaker at the weekly luncheon of the Lions club at the Conway hotel at 12:15 Monday afternoon. Dr. Carlson will talk to members of the club about life in Vienna, and general conditions in Europe.

REPORT MORE ABSENT VOTING THIS YEAR

Absent voting is heavier this year than ever before, according to John E. Hantschel, county clerk. There was a continuous stream of voters casting their ballot Saturday at the county clerk's office. The opening of the hunting season Tuesday morning is believed to have caused the great increase in absent voting.

COMPLETE DAMAGE SUIT NEXT WEEK

Finish Testimony in Case Against Soft Drink Parlor Owner

Taking of testimony in the $13,000 damage suit of Gordon Riese, 17-year-old Black Creek youth, and his father, William Riese, from John Griesbach, Mackville soft drink parlor operator, was completed in municipal court Friday night and the case continued to Wednesday morning when attorneys will deliver their pleas to the jury hearing the case.

The plaintiff's counsel Friday afternoon called on the stand the owner of a dance hall at Drephal to testify that no dances had been held at his place during the month of August and especially on August 24 when witnesses for the defense testified they saw Gordon Riese at a dance and drinking from a pint bottle.

The damages asked by Gordon Riese are for impaired eyesight as result of drinking alleged moonshine bought in the John Griesbach soft drink parlor.

CONDOLE PASSING OF "Y" DIRECTOR

Association Directors Memorialize W. S. Smith, Former Board Member

A resolution expressing regret at the death of W. S. Smith, Appleton, for 14 years a director of the Y. M. C. A. was passed by the association board at a meeting Thursday.

The resolution follows:

Whereas, our Father has called our beloved brother, W. S. Smith, to our heavenly home.

Whereas, our brother was one of the most efficient co-workers as a director in our Young Men's Christian Association for many years, serving in one of the most difficult positions, that of chairman of the house committee, and doing it in a most satisfactory manner.

Therefore, be it resolved that we herewith express our deep sorrow and great loss in his leaving us. And we herewith extend our sympathy to the bereaved family.

Resolved that this resolution be spread upon our minutes and a copy sent to the family and published in the Post-Crescent.

MARRIAGE LICENSES

Marriage licenses have been issued by John E. Hantschel, county clerk to Harold C. Christoph, Neenah, and Hildegard Thiel, Appleton; Edwin Lemke, Hortonville; and Ella Bruns, Shiocton; John C. Holsel, Jr., Menasha, and Evelyn Kettenhofen, Appleton.

MAN FINED $100 FOR RECKLESS DRIVING

Joseph Kiefer, Kaukauna, was fined $100 and costs by Judge N. J. Monahan in municipal court at Green Bay Saturday morning when he pleaded guilty of reckless driving. Kiefer was arrested about 7:30 Friday evening following a collision on Highway 54 near the Ferndell farm. E. F. Tesch, Seymour, was driving east and Kiefer was going west. Tesch said he got off the road as far as possible but that Kiefer's machine struck his anyway. Tesch's car was damaged to the extent of about $200.

BIRTHS

A daughter was born Friday to Mr. and Mrs. L. Prasher, 1005 S. Outagamie-st. at St. Elizabeth hospital.

A son was born Friday to Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Remter, route 6, Appleton.

A son was born Thursday to Mr. and Mrs. John Geenen, route 1, Kaukauna.

PLEAD GUILTY TO HAVING STOLEN CAR

Cecil Wendstadt and Leslie Gregory Will Be Sentenced Monday

Waiving preliminary hearing and pleading guilty to information charging them with adding in concealing stolen property, Cecil Wendstadt, Shawano, and Leslie Gregory, Minocqua, will be sentenced Monday morning in municipal court by Judge Theodore Berg.

The two men were picked up by Appleton police last week in a car found to have been stolen from Miles Center, Ill. They said they had been hitch hiking out of Milwaukee when a motorist picked them up and took them to St. Paul where he told them the car was stolen and they could have it.

Gregory, who also goes by the name of O'Connor has been in court here before on a bad check charge. Chief R. H. McCarthy, Kaukauna, now holds a warrant for the man on a check charge.

A. A. L. ALLEYS TO OPEN NEXT WEEK

Bowling alleys at the Aid Association for Lutherans building will open Monday afternoon for the fall and winter season. Leagues will be organized as soon as possible. League bowling will begin Oct. 1. C. Belling again is managing the leys.

RE-ELECT AL G. KOCH

REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE FOR REGISTER OF DEEDS of Outagamie County

TO THE VOTERS OF OUTAGAMIE COUNTY:—

Having been your Register of Deeds the past 13 years, I have given you efficient and courteous service and this can only be done by a man who has had years of experience, and not by one who has had no experience in the Register of Deeds office. There are only 5 or 6 counties in the state that have an abstract system in the Register of Deeds office, and Outagamie County is one of them. It is necessary in this county for the Register of Deeds to be an Abstrator in order to maintain and keep up the abstract books.

My opponent in his political advertisement says that he will charge the rates legally prescribed by law and no more. This is what I have always done.

Resolution No. 46, dated the 12th of February, 1930, unanimously passed by the County Board reads as follows:—

"Beg leave to report that from our investigation we find that the office of the Register of Deeds has been very satisfactorily, efficiently and economically conducted at very little cost to the County, whereas a number of offices of the Register of Deeds have been a burden to other counties. That said office of Register of Deeds has conformed in the past to all the requirements in the charges of fees as provided by law. And as a practice followed by other Register of Deeds in surrounding counties. That there has been no abuse therein; that the public has been efficiently served; books well kept and records in order.

Signed by: Wm. Beck, James Kennedy, S. G. Ruppel, Jos. P. Doerfler, Thos. H. Ryan and Stanley A. Staidl, District Attorney."

WHY CHANGE?

FORMER APPLETON MAN RETURNS FROM SURVEY OF RUSSIA

Dr. D. O. Kinsman Was Member of Economist Study Group

(Post-Crescent Washington Bureau) Washington—A Wisconsin economist will now add to American knowledge of Soviet Russia's present experiment.

Dr. Delos O. Kinsman, formerly of Appleton and well known throughout the Badger state as advisor to Wisconsin legislators on tax laws, has returned to Washington from a month's study of Soviet Russia with a party of 25 American economists.

Dr. Kinsman refuses to pass judgment on Russia this stage of its progress, particularly after only a month in that vast country, but comments, "Soviet Russia is attempting a great deal even if it does not accomplish it. We must at least say that." He adds that to him, Russia is by far the most interesting country in the world at this time.

Dr. Kinsman sailed from New York on June 14 and landed at Genoa, Italy, June 25. He spent sometime in Germany and attended the Passion Play at Oberammergau. He met the other economists in Berlin on July 7 and went with them into Russia, led by the late Henry Rogers Seager of Columbia University.

They visited Moscow, Petrograd, and went down the Danube. They investigated a number of factories, mines, and agricultural plants. Dr. Kinsman conferred with both Russian officials and a number of American engineers working in Russia.

RUSSIANS HOPEFUL
He found the Russians more hopeful of success for their various programs than the Americans.

About 800 American engineers and 50 American corporations are now working in Russia.

Dr. Kinsman was unusually fortunate in that his roommate could speak Russian and they, therefore, were able to talk with the people. The Russian peasants are very willing to talk, Dr. Kinsman said, and were apparently rather content with the present regime. However, a year would be a short time in which to learn a portion of the truth of Russia, let alone a month, he said.

The research made by the economists was, of necessity, extremely technical and somewhat uninteresting to any but economists, according to Dr. Kinsman. No general report of the visit and study is contemplated, Dr. Kinsman said, but a number of special articles will probably be written by various members of the expedition. Dr. Kinsman has been asked to write a series of articles for the Washington Evening Star. He has not yet decided whether or not he will do them. American University, where Dr. Kinsman is head of the economics department, reopens for the fall term on Monday, Sept. 15, and he will be very busy.

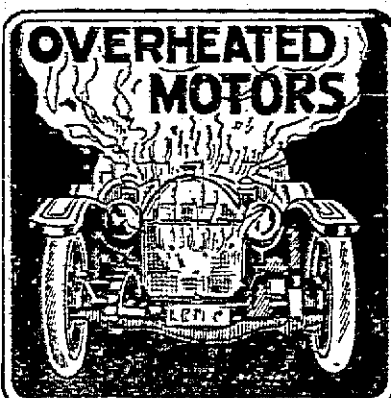

The various programs carried on by the Soviet government include transportation, distribution, and social, political, and religious phases. Dr. Kinsman states that women in Russia are apparently given entirely equal rights with men but forfeit all privileges based on sex. They have a considerable part in the government and Dr. Kinsman saw them pounding rocks in the streets, working as train hands, and laying bricks.

The Russian trip was most interesting but it was strenuous and difficult and climaxed by the tragic death of the party's leader, Dr. Seager, at Kiev on Aug. 23. Dr. Seager, tired from the trip, succumbed to pneumonia. Had American facilities, conveniences, and hospital equipment been available, Dr. Seager would probably have recovered, Dr. Kinsman believes.

Dr. Kinsman, himself, lost 15 pounds. Realizing his need for a rest, he returned to this country by boat from Danzig, spending 12 days on the water and arriving in Washington on August 31.

START WIDENING OF CARVER-ST NEXT WEEK

The widening of the Carver-st curve, which has been hanging fire for over two years, will be started the first of the week by street department workers. The deed for the land necessary to widen the corner was obtained about a week ago, and at the last council meeting it was decided to proceed with the work immediately. Although there have been no serious accidents at this place, it is a dangerous curve and there has always been much agitation for widening it.

NATIONALLY KNOWN MEN TO SPEAK AT METHODIST MEETING

Appleton District of Brotherhoods to Gather Here Oct. 3

A spectacular array of nationally known speakers, as well as a celebrated Italian-American concert tenor, are scheduled to appear on the program of the meeting of the Appleton district Methodist Brotherhoods at the local Methodist church on Oct. 3. The meeting will be under the direction of Dr. Charles L. Briggs, new district superintendent.

A local committee on arrangements will be appointed at 7:30 Friday evening at the Methodist church, at a meeting called by W. E. Smith, president of the Appleton Brotherhood.

The meeting, which will continue for only one day, will open with a spiritual retreat and conference under the supervision of Dr. Briggs, and close with a mass meeting in the evening. Bert Edward Smith,

Chicago, president of the International Council on Men's work and general secretary of men's work in the Methodist church, will speak in the morning and at the fellowship dinner, and Herbert H. Parish, Minneapolis, secretary of the St. Paul area for the Methodist Brotherhood, will be the speaker at the stewardship luncheon. Afternoon speakers will be Albert E. Kirk, Chicago, secretary of the division of educational institute of the Brotherhood, and Howard A. Musser, missionary from China. A negro orator from Los Angeles, A. P. Shaw, will address the massmeeting in the evening, and Signor Mario Cappelli, concert tenor, will sing. He also will sing at the Fellowship dinner.

The district meeting is one of eight similar meetings being held throughout the Wisconsin conferences from Sept. 29 to Oct. 5.

Caviar or Carrots

— they read this newspaper

IT MAY be about Bobby Jones at Merion, a polo team, or Hack Wilson's batting average—it may even be about business. But, no matter what they talk about or what their interests are, they all read the same publication: this Daily League Newspaper.

Knowing this, you advertise to them through these pages. Are your manufacturers doing the all-important job of building prestige for your products through the same medium?

There, Mr. Merchant, is one of the key factors in the building and sustaining of a successful business.

You must remember that reading tastes vary, that one man may read a metropolitan daily with his breakfast, that another may spend one evening a week with a national magazine, that their respective helpmates may read one of many women's publications. But all of them, be their taste for caviar or carrots, read this Daily League Newspaper. Your newspaper is a public habit.

Obviously, there is no other medium through which favorable attention from ALL of your customers can be attracted to the goods you carry. It takes a fair amount of advertising in your Daily League Newspaper by the men who make the goods to accomplish this end.

Won't you then, for your own advancement, make a decisive effort to secure your manufacturer's support? With conscientious co-operation, you can more than justify their expenditures in your locality with a substantial increase in sales.

Remember, this Daily League Newspaper is the single way in which you can reach the caviar and carrot readers and sell goods to all of them.

Merchandise which has been popularized to your customers through manufacturers' advertising creates the greatest turnover.

See that a share of this advertising is consistently placed in your Daily League Newspaper—where it will bring you the greatest returns.

EARTH HAS A HEART

Dr. Benjamin Boss, director of the Dudley observatory at Albany, N. Y., says the earth pulsates like a human heart. When the poets sing of "this heart of earth" or "the earth's sad heart," we call it fanciful. Dr. Boss is not poetizing.

The earth, he explains, actually expands and contracts like a heart. This, he suggests, is caused by bombardment of the sun in the form of electrons. These electronic showers while causing expansion and contraction, also produce winds, storms and northern lights. He doesn't expect scientific men to agree with him, at least not immediately, but wants to give the world something to think about. He presented his theory to the American Astronomical society at its annual meeting.

More and more, scientists are interesting themselves in the fascinating study of the sun. It is generally agreed that all the life on this earth is supported by the sun's energy. It has given out power at a tremendous rate, astronomers say, for billions of years, yet continues to pour fresh energy into space without apparent diminution. How it keeps going is not yet understood. The only thing about which general agreement is developing is that the sun's energy is electrical—that it is a vast source of electric force. Dr. Boss goes further than this. The whole universe, he believes, is "an electro-magnetic field in which each rotating body creates its own magnetic field." He adds that "in all probability the universe we know is but an aggregation of atoms in another, far greater, universe."

Here are things for schoolboys to think about, if they have brains and imagination. To some types of mind they may be more interesting than athletics.

THE HIGH PRICE OF YACHTING

Betty Carstairs' nonchalant announcement that she has spent more than $500,000 in the last few years in an attempt to wrest the speed boat championship from American hands is an illuminating commentary on the expensiveness of this particular brand of sport.

Indeed, yachting probably stands today as the most expensive sport available. There is simply no limit to the amount of money that an enthusiast can pour into it. The sailboats that competed for the honor of defending the America's cup cost over $1,000,000 apiece. A pleasure yacht like Vincent Astor's or J. P. Morgan's can cost $200,000 a year simply for upkeep. Nevertheless, the poor man can have his whack at it, too. For a few hundred dollars he can get a boat and outboard motor that will take him over the water at a dizzy clip. For a little more he can buy a neat cabin cruiser or sailboat. Yachting is an aristocratic sport, but it does have a democratic side.

AGRICULTURAL LIMITATIONS

Alexander Legge, chairman of the federal farm board, tells farmers in New York state that, if properly organized, he "cannot see any reason why agriculture might not go farther than industry, inasmuch as most of the farmer's products are consumed every day and several times a day, and the consumption must be fairly continuous if we are to live."

Nobody wants to discourage farmers but this sounds unduly optimistic. The capacity of the consuming public for manufactured products is almost limitless. We could all use a good deal more clothing, furniture, rugs, toys, pictures, jewelry, automobiles, etc., if we had the money. But generally speaking, we couldn't use much more food. The farmer's market is comparatively limited. And he makes it worse by speeding up production.

Farm organization is fine. But after that, must there not be limitation somehow of production and of farm population?

EUROPEAN AND AMERICAN JUSTICE

If you ever wonder why Europeans tend to look upon Americans as a strange and incomprehensible people, you might give a little attention to the recent cable dispatches concerning Mr. Jack (Legs) Diamond.

Legs Diamond is a New York racketeer, rapidly gaining a Manhattan reputation as a sort of small-scale Al Capone. Not long ago, thirsting for the broadening effects of travel, he sailed for Europe. His liner got to England and the British authorities, forewarned as to his antecedents, refused to let him in.

Thereupon he went to Belgium. The Belgian police met him at the dock, trotted to the German frontier and turned him loose—possibly as a belated reprisal for the indignity of 1914.

In no time at all the Germans arrested him. Having been tipped off that he was a director of various criminal enterprises and a highly dangerous man, they immediately wired New York and announced that they were holding him; would New York please send and get him?

The surprise came when New York replied that it did not want him. In a broad sense, of course, that was understandable; but New York meant that it had no criminal charges ready to place against him, had no cell yawning for him and, on the whole, had no reason to deprive him of his liberty.

This was the sort of thing that the Europeans found themselves unable to assimilate. Here was a notorious "bad man" on the loose. England, Belgium and Germany, in rapid succession, gave him short shrift, and the Germans thoughtfully and tactfully arrested him so that his home town could deal with him as he deserved; and then the home town announced that it was not interested! It had him down in its list as a racketeer, but it could not do anything about it. As far as New York was concerned he was free as the air, and he could come home any time he wanted to.

It is hardly surprising if Europe finds this a bit thick. In Europe they have different ways of dealing with crooks and high binders. They do not give them the freedom of the city until such time as they obligingly commit murders under the eyes of the mayor. Politicians do not befriend them. The law and the courts do not throw out protecting technicalities to shelter them. The criminal is harried and hounded—and, as a result, does not thrive.

Our way is different. Here we make national figures out of them. We call them "kings of the underworld," or some such flamboyant title, and leave them strictly alone. We revel in accounts of their misdeeds but we do not dream of punishing them. And they flourish, consequently, as the green bay tree.

OUR NEWEST NATIONAL PARK

Great Smoky Mountains National park is at last formally in existence, title to the land donated by North Carolina and Tennessee having been accepted by the federal government. With this acceptance, a new and magnificent playground for the people of the United States is available.

This whole national park idea, when you stop to think of it, is one of the finest things our government has done. Year after year, tourists by the thousands travel across the country to visit these great stretches of unspoiled natural beauty. The Great Smoky region fully deserves its inclusion in the list, and because of its proximity to the great eastern centers of population can be counted on to draw enormous crowds during the next few years.

The United States is the world's largest producer of bison.

About New York

BY RICHARD MASSOCK

Paris—Things I have learned about Paris: Tipping trouble is not so bad, but a lot of people like to talk about it.

Theater ticket brokers, on the other hand, are more practiced highwaymen than their New York counterpart. They add $1.50 to the price of a $3.25 ticket to the Folies-Bergere. And get it.

Wire racks for hats under the seats, which every American theater has, are an innovation here. One cinema is running a short film showing the French how to use them.

A native behind us tried his out and then complained volubly to an usher that it didn't fit the broad brim of his chapeau.

MOTOR CUSTOMS

Every automobile in Paris has two horns, one for country driving, the other for town. The latter makes less noise and is necessary because motorists are required to honk at every corner. Try to sleep late in the morning!

The parking situation in the narrow streets has solved the apparent satisfaction of the motorists, who are given, theoretically, an even break.

On odd days of the month, parking is permitted on one side of the streets; on even days, the other side. The first one to park in a block must know the calendar. The others merely have to line up ahead or behind him.

When one buys an automobile, the dealer seals the contract by bringing out a bottle of his best wine.

It is easy to buy American cigarettes, but difficult to find your favorite brand of pipe tobacco. A shop usually carries only one American brand of the latter and it usually is one you don't want.

When you take it in preference to the tongue-cutting French tobacco, you find that it has been drying on the shelf since the war.

Sandwich men patrol the boulevards, advertising an English version of "Maya" as the banned play, meaning that it was stopped by the police in New York several years ago.

The movie theaters are the Broadway houses by employing barkers, who stand outside telling all the world, as the French say when they mean everybody, that there are plenty of seats inside.

BOHEMIAN HOST

One of the leaders of the Bohemian set is Arthur Moss, editor of a smart magazine, who migrated to the original Latin Quarter from the Greenwich Village imitation some years ago.

His apartment on the left bank is a frequent scene of all-night parties, attended by celebrities like Mary McCormack, who is singing here in opera.

Nobody gives cocktail parties in Paris, however, and there are few teas.

Les Halles, the main Paris marketplace, is a particular haven of human derelicts. Drifters go there after midnight to help in the unloading of vegetables and for other odd jobs, for which they are paid a few sous, promptly spent on soup and grog.

Old women sleep on the sidewalks until after the morning produce has all been sold. Then they gather up stray scraps to keep them alive for another miserable day.

Today's Anniversary

BATTLE OF ST. MIHIEL

On September 12, 1918, the American army, under General Pershing, successfully carried out its first operation in the World War when it emerged victorious at the Battle of St. Mihiel.

The Americans were badly handicapped by deficiencies in artillery, aviation and special troops, but these were met largely by the French.

It was the regular infantry brigade of the 2d that did the attacking, and its assignment was the hardest. This brigade covered six miles of hilly and difficult country in less than nine hours and captured more than 3,000 prisoners and much material, including five railroad trains. The speed of the American advance had completely baffled the Germans and they retreated.

This was the first battle under American command and it was a most auspicious beginning. American casualties, including the French troops involved, were about 7,000. The German prisoners numbered 14,493, with 443 guns.

The report of the battle in the Infantry Journal said in part: "The most intense concentration of artillery ever recorded was that of the American troops in the Battle of St. Mihiel, when our artillery fired more than 1,000,000 shells in four hours."

LOOKING BACKWARD

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Saturday, Sept. 16, 1905

Marriage licenses were issued by the county clerk to Orville Lutz and Mary Goode, Appleton; Theodore Calmes and Elma Le Captain, Appleton.

F. E. Saeker was in Milwaukee on business. Miss Tracy Herman had returned from a trip through the west.

Mrs. Eding and daughter, Norma, had returned from a trip to Chicago.

Miss Ida Hilbert was expected home that evening from a visit at Black Wolf.

John Graber left the day before for Green Bay where he was to spend Sunday with friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Kroner returned the night before from a few days' visit at Milwaukee.

Mr. and Mrs. John S. Van Nortwick and daughters, Martha and Mary, returned that day from a few days' trip to Chicago by motor.

Mayor Hartmann returned the previous day from Chain O'Lakes where he had spent a week.

Dr. William O'Keefe was elected chairman of the board of censors of the Fox River Valley Dental association at the meeting the preceding Tuesday.

Lyman Patton returned the night before from a trip through Waushara and a visit at Chain O'Lakes.

TEN YEARS AGO

Saturday, Sept. 11, 1920

America was to give the negro the justice that Abraham Lincoln would have prayed for, Senator Warren G. Harding declared, denouncing mob violence in an address to a delegation of negro Baptists at Marion, Ohio, that day.

Percy Fullinwider, of the violin department of Lawrence Conservatory of Music, had returned from a twelve weeks' chautauqua trip with the Travers-Twelve Chautauqua company of Des Moines, Iowa.

Alfred Bradford, Francis Bradford, and Duke Buell, Beaver Dam, left the day before on a trip to northern Wisconsin.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Lanz left that morning for Waushara, Marshfield, and Stratford where they were to visit relatives and friends for the coming week.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Kunitz attended the county fair at Fond du Lac the day before.

Miss Elsie and Miss Leone Storm and Miss Josephine Mignon went to Menasha the preceding Thursday evening.

Nick Dohr and Matt Rosemeier were at Appleton on business the previous day.

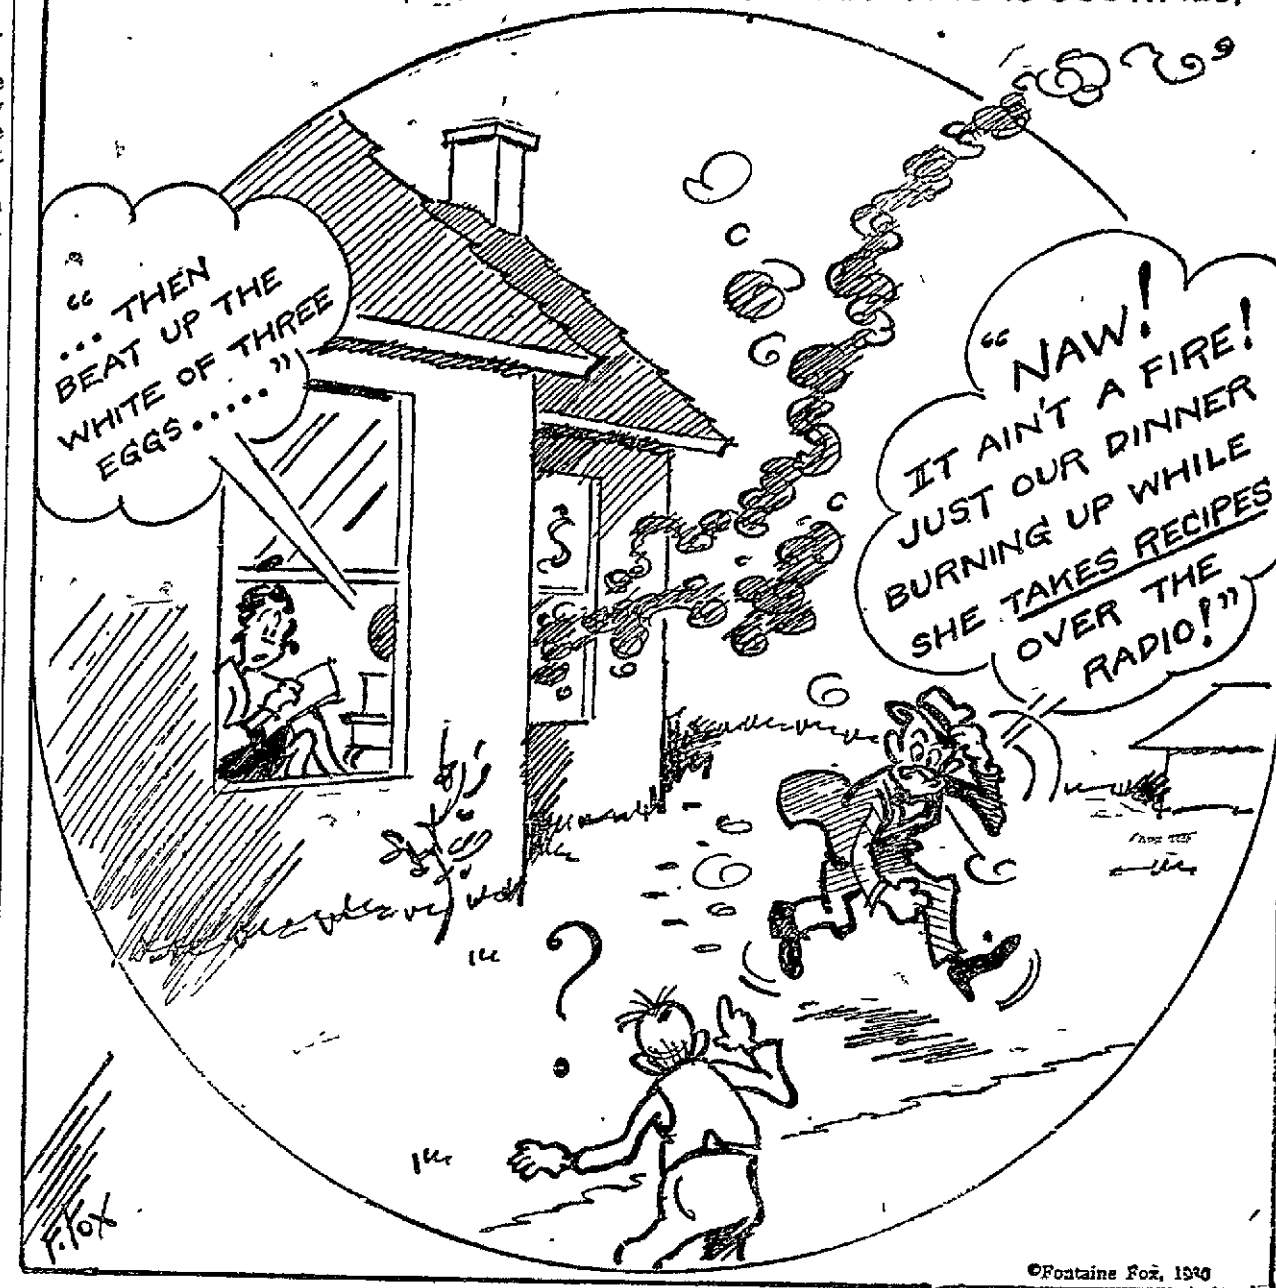

Mrs. N. Montgomery returned the previous Wednesday from Waushara where she spent a few days.

Miss Anna Schimpf and Miss Anna Giesbers were spending several days at Minneapolis visiting with relatives.

It took news of the Crimean War a week to get to London by messenger, as modern methods of transmitting news were not known then.

SPEAKING OF INSURANCE, LIFE SICK OR ACCIDENT

A school teacher had his tonsils removed by one of the best throat surgeons a year ago. The operation was done in a first class hospital, with all the conventional trappings. No matter what it cost. Let us say $200.

Alas it is not the first cost, but the upkeep. The teacher really selected the first week after school closed to undergo his operation. He wanted to get it all over with, enjoy his vacation, then return to school in the fall a better and brighter man. Yet the teacher, as it turned out, oh, well, was a moment until we bring the case up with the story.

The teacher survived the operation all right. When they had gathered up all the paraphernalia and called the wrecking crew to take away the heavier apparatus, so that they could get right down to the teacher, they found him all safe and sound and still breathing. So they loaded him onto the wagon and shoved him off to his bed. And then, who really loves his calling can find plenty to occupy his mind for a year in bed.

I'm a teacher, in a way, myself, and I do some of my best thinking, if you can call it that, in bed. Not at night, though; the time to think is in the morning; that is, the a. m. hour. I always shudder and grit my teeth when I think of Harry Lander saying that maddening ditty about how fine it is to get up in the misty morning. Ugh! Burglars, cops and milkmen, yes, but thinking people ought to give their subconscious mind a chance, and from five to nine a. m. is the time when the subconscious is least inhibited or restrained by the consciousness, the time when great ideas are born, though most of them float right away because people are cursed by that "early to rise" delusion.

Well, the teacher has spent a year and a fine bungalow in the hospital. First he went and developed a post-tonsillotomy lung abscess. This required three operations on the chest—a veritable treasure chest the doctors have tapped, what! Now the teacher is home again, but, shucks, pus still drains from the last rib resection.

Of course the lung abscess would not have happened if the teacher had refused to have his tonsils re-cut in this modern method. In that case, the teacher would have been out just the initial 200 berries (let us estimate) and his tonsils, but he would still have twenty-four ribs and his bungalow all unencumbered. Lung abscesses do not happen after diathermy extirpation of the tonsils.

In other words, the monetary threat surgeon takes your tonsils, your tonsils, your bungalow—yes, your life, maybe. The electro-surgeon gives you a good life, sick and accident policy with his treatment.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
Help Wanted

One of the conductor's favorite replies to requests for his so and so treatment is "For what complaint?" But today's mail brought a query that baffles him and he cries for succor. It seems a chap in Florida thought the problem over pretty carefully before he wrote, and then asked two questions to-wit: (1) Kindly send me your so and so treatment. (2) Kindly inform me what this treatment is for. For the snappiest rejoinder to this Florida man's query suggested by any of our friends I offer a copy of some good modern book on health or hygiene. I suspect this Florida correspondent is trying to get me flustered.

Former Pep Restored
Some five months ago I wrote asking your advice about an aden ration. I followed your instructions and am happy to report that it has been the means for restoring my former pep. I could feel a difference even after the first week, and I have steadily improved on it. All my friends comment on my comeback. (C. C. L.)

Answer—Well, well, I'm delighted to hear from you. More folks should take more iodine. Then there would be a smaller number of them trying to come back. Particularly young persons, just entering their teens, need an iodine ration to prevent goiter and to oppose the tendency to hypothyroidism, dopedness, sleepiness and unaccountable languor which occurs so commonly in girls particularly. Then, young adults need an iodine ration to keep them from "going stale," to postpone the grayings of the hair and maybe the hardening of the arteries. This sounds something like the siren song of a blooming quack, but I'll change it for I mean it. Now, then, instructions for taking an iodine ration will be sent to any reader who tells me he or she wishes to take the iodine ration. Mind, I am not offering this to anybody, but only to the correspondents who say he or she wishes to use it personally. Inclose with your request a stamped envelope bearing your address.

Castor Oil Destroys Warts
I read in your column about using castor oil for warts. I have found it remarkably effective after many other remedies had failed. (D. C.)

Answer—And yet, some people think castor oil is perfectly harmless to pour into the delicate stomach of even the newborn babe. Worse, they do this without just cause or provocation. The only good use of castor oil are (1) as lubricating oil for airplane engines, (2) a few drops may be added to alcoholic lotions for dandruff or hair, to prevent excessive dryness of scalp, and (3) as dope for daily application to warts.

The Tynmites

By Hal Cochran

TODAY the little Tynmites are still out seeing wondrous sights in Rome, and what a treat for them. They've never had so much fun. The Triumphal Arch of Constantine was eyed by Arch with interest, keen. Said Coppy, "When they finished that a wondrous job was done."

Then on the famous Tiber they went boating and stayed half the day. The Tomb of Roman Emperors stood boldly 'long the shore. Then, in the distance they could see the Vatican. Said Coppy, "Gee, what wonderful big buildings people built in days of yore."

"Well, next," exclaimed the Travel Man, "I think we'll follow out a plan that I have had in mind some time. Now here's what we will do. We'll take a plane ride in the sky high, we'll look down on the spread of Rome. 'Twill be a bird's-eye view."

And so they sailed an hour or so and what sight lay down below. The largest buildings looked real small. The people looked like ants. Said Coppy, "Gee, I wouldn't miss, for anything, a ride like this. The things I've seen have thrilled me so. I think that I could dance."

"Well, don't start dancing 'way up here," snapped Scouty Tynmite. "I fear you'd turn our airplane upside-down and then where would we be?" We Cloway laughed and said, "Don't fret. Right back to earth we'll safely get. Why, I was only fooling. Can't you take a joke from me?"

They shortly sailed to earth again, all very satisfied, and then the Travel Man said, "Follow me." They did so, hand in hand. He led them to a train where, soon, they traveled and a "choo-choo" tune. The Travel Man then said, "We're going to ride to Switzerland."

The Tynmites ride on a funny train in the next story.

A BYSTANDER IN WASHINGTON

BY HERBERT PLUMMER

Washington—One of the most dramatic figures in the United States senate during the turbulent days of the world war has won his first skirmish out in Oklahoma in his fight to return to the body where he has served already for 14 years.

Thomas Pryor Gore, first blind man ever to sit in the senate and one of his state's first two representatives in that chamber, will oppose Sen. W. B. Pina, the incumbent, in the general elections in November. During the years from 1907 to 1921 when he was swept out of office in the Harding landslide, there was a no more picturesque figure in Washington than Gore.

Blinded in one eye at the age of eight by a stick thrown by a companion at a cow, he was deprived of the sight of his other eye at the age of 11 in an accident with a toy gun, he was, despite his handicap, able to reach a seat in the United States senate at the age of 37.

STARTED EARLY

Gore traces his yearning for a political career to hearing the Congressional Record read while he was a page in the senate of his native Mississippi.

His father, who was a justice of the peace, instilled in him a desire for law in him. Working as a school teacher with the air of his classmates who read the books to him, he succeeded in graduating from a law school in Tennessee.

Oklahoma soon claimed him. That state regards him as one of its political pioneers. He assisted in writing its state constitution and was chosen as one of Oklahoma's first pair of United States senators.

Although entirely bereft of his eyesight, he displays the use of raised type for the blind. He prefers to keep posted on current events by having publications read to him.

His hobby is second-hand books. Often in strange cities, while waiting for his train, he has had bell boys take him to a book store where he would pick out volumes that caught his fancy. His library numbers thousands of volumes.

LIGHT-HEARTED

In his Washington law office, to which he retired when defeated for the senate, he finds his way unaided through the large office building where he practices. The carefully screened electric fan in his office is the only precaution that he has.

Since he left the senate in 1921, his interest in events "on the hill" has continued unabated. It is a familiar sight to see him enter the chamber where he sat for so long, find his way near the place where he formerly sat, and listen to what is going on at the floor. He even snaps his fingers to summon a page just as he did years ago.

Always immaculate in person, he is noticeably light-hearted and seldom, if ever, depressed.

He regards his frustration of what he calls a $30,000,000 "steel" franchise the Osage Indians as one of his outstanding achievements in the senate.

How do you like the new lower clothing prices? We think they're great!

In 1921 when the cheap electric refrigerators were $695.00 there were but few owned in Appleton. Now with complete outfits as low as $175.00 nearly every home has its own ice man.

When all electric radio was introduced it was a rich man's toy at $500 per set and there were only a handful of the outfits in this city. Now with electrified sets at $85.00 we can all listen to Amos and Andy.

Lower prices boost volume—and volume is the life's blood of successful business.

We are glad to welcome and offer the new lower prices on men's clothing—it means more men will buy more clothes and that this store with both the assortment and the values will do more business.

TORY OF MACHINES AND MEN TOLD BY NEW YORK MUSEUM

Peaceful Arts Exhibits Are Said to Be Among First in World

BY LEMUEL F. PARTON
Copyright, 1930, By Cons. Press
New York—(CPA)—For the first time, the complete story of the machine age is usually set forth in the exhibit, "Men and Machines," opening here today. Housed in a magificent new skyscraper glittering with machine chrome and steel trimmings, it tells pictorially and by interesting exhibits what men have done to machines, but leaves out the story of what machines have done to men.

"With the Bread Lines Down Behind," paraphrasing the old song—there is a disquieting suggestion that the men will soon be in the sum of the machines. However, these quibbles are anticipated and answered by a little brochure issued out with the free view of the exhibit.

"Machinery, and machinery alone, holds out the promise of material ease for all, of leisure which comwith plenty, and of a new kindness which will grow of itself in human relations if we organize them wisely and well. Our task is to grow the wisdom of machinery's use," says the booklet, entitled "The Machine and the Democratic Ideal."

FINE EXHIBIT

While President Hoover's commission on social trends is working out a little problem of social wisdom, an exhibit may be viewed as perhaps the most informing, the best ranged and altogether interesting hibit of the kind ever attempted, which tells the story of the whole vast machinery civilization, from its primitive beginnings down to a current highly mechanized moment of this year of grace. Aside from the historical exhibits, which cord virtually all technical advances, there are about 200 exhibits individuals and companies which und up an epic of power, steel, precision, and utility, which may yet free humanity from want, instead of merely freeing it from poor.

Here is the old Corliss engine, which set the crowds agape at the Philadelphia centennial exhibition. It is 18 feet long, 7 feet high, weighs tons and develops 75 horsepower.
Beside it is a snappy little 1930 turbine, three and one-half feet long, and one-half foot wide, two feet high and weighing 400 pounds—and, furthermore, developing 75 horsepower. Thus, in a multitude of exhibits, there is abridged the story of man's laborious conquest over inert matter, over hostile and resistant forces, and his triumphant employment of the fire which this Vulcan ble from the gods and doesn't know how to manage.

Here are aluminum rails, for railroads, with a convulsive prophecy at, possibly in the remaining days of Andrew Mellon, aluminum will steel steel a hard run, even for heat duty uses. Here, recorded in justifying gadgets and moving exhibits, is the record of machine development in textiles, communications, power, transportation, agriculture, printing and virtually every man enterprise in which a tool, instead of a laborer has figured. Each of these machines has a duplicate workers, but it would be easy for man to become an academic ally of the machine looking up the records, to know that in many cases they have done more jobs than they have devoted. The public library is just few blocks down the street and there are two exhibits where any curious unemployed person may figure out something worth while about why and whether of a machine utilization. "The Little Booklet is man reassuring."

"It (the machine) has liberated the masses from the hard labor of former centuries; and with its production on a great scale, with high wagmore leisure, and improved standards of living, has opened up a new life. The average man enjoys great benefits and more freedom for improvement, due to it, than before in the world's history." The museum of the peaceful arts is made possible by a generous donation by Henry R. Towne. If opening ten weeks' exhibit is successful, it is planned to maintain it a great, permanent exhibit, comparable to the famous Deutsches Museum of Munich, Germany.

NOTORIETY SHUNNED BY GRANDDAUGHTER OF FRONTIER BANDIT

Los Angeles—(CP)—The family aim to major bandit honors must rest on the record achieved by Jesse James as far as his granddaughter is concerned, she stified in her $55,000 breach of contract suit against a film company here.

Eager enough to help erect epi-taphs of her grandfather's life on the screen, Miss Jesse Estelle James testified she balked at emulating him in actual life.

"They suggested I slick up a p for publicity," she testified.
"They wanted me to get arrested and speeding, resist the officer and draw a gun on him so they could broadcast the story Jesse James' granddaughter stuck up policeman."

Miss James testified she resented because she had never been arrested and didn't crave the excitement, even for the sake of riches.

Miss James brought the suit against Paramount-Famous-Las-Corporation and the estate of C. Thomas, actor, complaining another had been given a part in the film "Jesse James," which had been promised to her.

Atlantic Conquered by Air Seven Times in 1930

The year 1930 seems destined to go down in history as a banner season for trans-Atlantic flights. The recent westward crossing by Coste and Bellonte being the seventh successful oceanic air voyage of the year as well as the first ever to be made from the continent to the United States. The above map shows the routes of the two dirigibles, Graf Zeppelin and R-100, both of which twice crossed the ocean, and the routes of the three successful airplane flights as well as the proposed itinerary of two other heavier-than-air expeditions expected to start soon. The Graf Zeppelin was first to span the Atlantic this year, coming to Lakehurst by way of South America, and returning over the northern route. The R-100 crossed the north Atlantic on its way to Montreal as well as on the return journey. The German flyers, headed by Wolfgang von Gronau, made the flight in a series of hops, while Charles Kingsford-Smith, the Australian, spanned the ocean in one jump, but was forced to land at Newfoundland before continuing to New York City. The projected flights of Russell Boardman to Ireland and return and of Captain Endres from Detroit to Budapest also are shown.

LACK OF UTILITY IN SPEED YACHTS BRINGS CRITICISM

Huge Expense Involved in Building Craft Also Is Scored

By NEA Service
New York—In addition to the expense involved in challenging and defending the America's Cup, the sacrifice of utility in designing the speed yachts has brought international criticism. Even after Sir Thomas Lipton's third unsuccessful invasion in 1903, for instance, it was realized that cup match meant the expenditure of vast sums for two racing machines which were so delicately lined and constructed that they were of no use for any other purpose.

So interest lagged, and it was not until 1913 that Sir Thomas sent a challenge under two new yachting rules which took into account displacement as well as length and sail area. These rules encouraged a faster, more seaworthy hull instead of the flat and impractical "cow-bodies" which previously had been developed.

The challenge was accepted and three defending candidates were built. Herreshoff again designed the winner, which was named Resolute and was financed by a Morgan-Vanderbilt syndicate.

CARRIED HUGE SAIL
C. E. Nicholson, English naval architect who designed the challenger of 1930, also planned Sir Thomas' Shamrock. With long, flat ends, she was an unattractive but powerful craft with 10,459 square feet of sail, nearly 1700 more than was carried by the smaller Resolute.

But no sooner had the trial races been completed than the World War brought on indefinite postponement.
Both boats were laid up until 1920, when the match was sailed off Sandy Hook. Charles Francis Adams, present Secretary of the Navy, was the amateur skipper of Resolute, composed by William P. Burton, English yachtsman, on the Shamrock.

In the first race, 15 miles to windward and return, Adams' superior handling allowed Resolute a half mile lead at the outer mark, though Shamrock had given plenty of evidence of speed in a good breeze.
Then Resolute's wire throat halcyons parted, and the crew found it impossible to reset the mainsail. For the first time in history, and American defender did not finish a race.
Lipton's boat crossed the line in excellent time.

LIPTON EXPECTED VICTORY
Burton showed better judgment next time in handling Shamrock.
He used every inch of available canvas, including a makeshift sail which no expert ever has named, and scooted over the finish line a winner. This was despite the 7 minute and 39 seconds time handicap under which the larger Shamrock had to sail.

"I had waited 21 years for this moment," exclaimed Lipton. He felt certain, as did many Americans, that with two races to his credit and only one more victory necessary to clinch the match, the "Old Mug" finally was within his grasp.

But the third race because of defeat for the challenger. It was a dead heat, each yacht taking exactly the same time to cover the course.

RESOLUTE TOOK LEAD
And the fourth race tied the series, for Adams again demonstrated better seamanship and built up a commanding lead on the first two legs of a 20-mile triangular course.
On the home stretch a rain squall killed the wind and the finish was uncertified. Resolute crossing nearly four minutes ahead of the green yacht.

Lipton's hopes were renewed when, at the beginning of the fifth and last race, Burton pulled Shamrock out ahead on the 15-mile beat to windward. But the brisk breeze lightened and Resolute gained until she reached the outer mark ahead of Shamrock. The lead was never relinquished, and the American boat was more than four minutes ahead at the finish.

The gallant Irish sportsman had failed again to lift the famous trophy held in this country since 1851. It was to be ten years before he made another attempt—in the races off Newport today.

New Troubles Result From Decrease In Diamond Duty

Washington—(AP)—The 1930 tariff, cutting the diamond duty in half, was designed to offer less temptation to smugglers, but the law has presented a new difficulty.
The drawback division of the customs service now must be on the alert to circumvent the dealer who imported diamonds under the old rate scheme to take advantage of the new through the operation of drawback provisions.

A gem merchant who six months ago imported $100,000 worth of un-set diamonds, paying $20,000 duty, today would pay only $10,000 duty.

He might, customs officers pointed out, by perusing the tariff law, take special notice of the "drawback" clause which says: "That upon the exportation of articles manufactured or produced in the United States with the use of imported materials, the full amount of the duties paid on the merchandise so used shall be refunded as drawback, less one per cent of such duties."

The idea might then strike him that he could manufacture his unset diamonds into jewel cases and rings, using cheap materials as settings, and exporting them all but one per cent of his $20,000 back. In Europe, the stones might be removed from their cheap settings, to be reimpor-ted by the same dealer for $10,000.
But customs officials already are on the alert for just such possible concealments.

Diamond drawbacks will not be considered as legitimate by the customs service unless they are backed by documents to prove their claims.

LONG, NARROW TOES LATEST IN SHOES

Slinky Cast to Newer Foot Models; Clear Browns
Most Popular

BY AILEEN LAMONT

Copyright, 1930, By Cons. Press
New York—(CPA)—Shoes have taken on a slinky cast. Pumps with opera heels and long, pointed toes, in clear browns with a leather bow to match. Or possibly an oxford in pale beige, with beige ribbon ties, and just a touch of darker beige reptile in a triangle on each side of the row of eyelets. The kind of shoes in which you do not stride but in which you advance with calculated womanly allure.

Blithe, and even frisky, are the new pajamas of pink silk with a coat in plaid. This plaid, also silk, is chiefly in green and white checks, with a few lines of green and yellow running through it. In case you wear there pajamas on the beach, a big taffeta hat, red checked outside and faced with pink, goes along.

Among the new autumn gowns for afternoon is, one of black georgette, its collar and jabot trimmed with pleated white chiffon. The skirt, circular with a slight flare, is composed of ten wide, horizontal pleats, each pleat divided into five sections so that the skirt is more supple than flaring. The sections are joined by fagotting.

BUSINESS IMPROVEMENT IS REPORTED IN STATE

Madison—(CP)—A "substantial" improvement in business conditions in Wisconsin since Sept. 1 is indicated in reports from members of the Wisconsin Manufacturers' association.
George F. Kull, secretary-manager, said here today.

Several thousand men have been returned to industrial payrolls and many plants have gone on a full time basis, representing "the first real up-turn in 1930," Kull said.

Nothing indicates sudden prosperity, the secretary said, but he added that "there is ample warrant for the statement that the upturn has arrived and that there will continue for some months a gradual improvement in employment conditions."

$246 COLLECTED AT CITY TOURIST CAMP THIS SUMMER

Traffic Was Not as Great This Year as Last, Caretaker Says

Although the tourist traffic during the summer was slower than in former years, the city campsite at Alicia park netted the city about $40 more this summer than last, records in the office of Fred Bachman, city treasurer, reveal. This year's total was $246.50, compared to $204 last season.

The turnover of tourists was not as frequent as in former years, stated Philip Kreutzer, caretaker of parks, but this was offset by the great number of persons who made the campsite their home for weeks at a time. Canvassers and persons temporarily located in the city made use of the park during most of the summer, sleeping in tents and cooking their own meals over open fires.

Pierce park was more generally used this year than at any time in its history. Every Sunday was reserved by some organization or another and every day and night in the week, with the exception of Saturday and Monday, the park was filled with organization and private picnics. Erb and Alicia parks were also popular for gatherings, while the city park was used chiefly by afternoon strollers and the Schaefer club members who meet during the winter in the basement of city hall.

Because of its hockey and skating rinks, was used chiefly by children.

The zoo is still located in Alicia park, but with the coming of winter the park board will soon be faced with the problem of either providing winter quarters or abandoning the zoo.

Many Plans Offered For 1931 Graduation Event

Just where the graduates of Outagamie rural schools in 1931 will hold their commencement exercises is still very indefinite.

A. G. Meating, county superintendent of schools, who started United States last June by taking his entire graduating class to Washington, D. C., for graduating exercises, stated something. This year the national capitol, according to all reports will be literally overrun by groups emulating the example set by Outagamie-co.

In addition, it is reported, there are school groups from other counties both in and out of Wisconsin, planning trips of a similar nature to every well known point of interest in the United States. Just what success these trips will meet with remains to be seen.

Society And Club Activities

Explorer Of Arctic Will Appear Here

ADMIRAL RICHARD BYRD, aviator and explorer, will appear in Appleton this winter under the auspices of the Appleton Women's club. His appearance is scheduled for Nov. 19 at Lawrence Memorial chapel, Appleton, Wis., who will speak in Milwaukee and Minneapolis during his week in Wisconsin, was booked through a fortunate contact, and with his Appleton appearance is making one of his few addresses in smaller cities.

Another attraction to be offered by the Appleton Women's club this winter is Dudley Crafts Watson, artist lecturer, who will give an illustrated lecture here on Oct. 23. Mr. Watson, a former teacher at the Layton Art Gallery, Milwaukee, is now a teacher in the Art Institute in Chicago. His appearance here is in conjunction with a program sponsored by the Green Bay Women's club in that city.

ENTERTAIN AT DANCING PARTY

Miss Helen Jean Ingold, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Ingold, 733 E. College-ave., and Roy Marston, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Marston, Sr., 338 E. College-ave., entertained at a formal dancing party Friday evening at Riverview Country club. About 200 guests were present, many attending from Oshkosh, Neenah, and De Pere. Tom Temple's orchestra provided the music for dancing, and the club was decorated in cut flowers. Chaperones were Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Ingold and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Marston, Sr.

The Young Women's Missionary society of St. Paul English Lutheran church, Neenah, will meet at 7:30 Monday night at the home of Mrs. A. E. Cartwright, 311 Railroad-st. There will be a devotional period and the lesson topic will be Our Inner Mission Task, to be given by Mrs. Russell Lornson. Regular business will be discussed. Mrs. E. Stelow will be assistant hostess.

A social meeting of Zion Lutheran Senior society of Zion Lutheran church will be held at 7:30 Monday evening at the school auditorium. A program will be arranged by a committee including Miss Virginia Meyer, Miss Viola Gurnett, Miss Meta Refske, and Vernon Holterman.

The bowling alleys at Zion Lutheran school will open Monday for the coming season. The Brother and Sister teams have been organized and will begin rolling Monday.

Rally day and promotion services will be held at 9:45 Sunday at First Congregational church. This is the opening of the fall activities of the church school. All departments of the church will take part in the service.

The Young People's society of St. John Evangelical church will meet at 7:30 Monday night at the church. This will be a business and social meeting.

A meeting of Appleton Encampment, Order of Odd Fellows, took place Friday night at Odd Fellow hall. Regular business was transacted.

Konemic lodge, Order of Odd Fellows, will meet at 8 o'clock Monday night at Odd Fellow hall. Routine business will be transacted.

C. B. Clark circle, Ladies of the Grand Army of the Republic, Neenah, will hold its September meeting Monday evening at the armory. The session will begin at 7:30.

A meeting of Pythian Sisters will be held at 7:45 Monday evening at Castle hall. Regular business will be transacted.

The Clio club will resume its meetings for the fall with a 8 o'clock supper Monday evening at the home of Mrs. John Frampton, Lawrence-st. Mrs. G. A. Ritchie will have charge of the program, the general topic for study this year being Ireland. The supper committee includes Miss Ada Myers, Mrs. J. H. Farley, Mrs. J. A. Holmes, and Miss Carrie Morgan.

The Sunshine club met Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Bertha Schultz, 1227 S. Pierce-ave. Twenty-seven members were present and the afternoon was spent informally. Mrs. Margaret Zischbacher and Mrs. Hattie Coles were assistant hostesses.

Fifteen parties were in play at the card party given by Christian Mothers of St. Mary church Friday afternoon at Columbia hall. Bridge prizes were won by Mrs. J. Miller and Mrs. John Roach, Sr., and prizes at schafkopf were awarded to Mrs. C. A. Kaufman and Mrs. M. Crow. There will be another party next Friday.

En Claire — (P) — Injured when his automobile hurled into a ditch near Meridian, Chris Pfeister, 33, Chicago, was dead today and his companion, F. A. Bauman, also of Chicago, was in a critical condition.

PARTIES

Miss Eunice Campshure was surprised by a number of friends Friday night at her home, 1119 N. State-st., in honor of her birthday anniversary. Decorations were in pink and white. Dice was played and prizes were awarded to Miss Marcella Endter and Miss Bernice Schweitzer. Other guests were the Misses Ione Dergsbaker, Florence Foster, Lorna Hammond, Katherine Schwab, and Elaine Campshure.

A number of friends entertained at a winner and marshmallow roast Wednesday evening at Alicia park in honor of Miss Dorothy Brown, who will leave Sunday to enter Milwaukee State Teachers' college. Twelve guests were present. Miss Brown was presented with gifts.

Mrs. Katherine Williams, McKinley-st., entertained Thursday evening at her home at a kitchen shower in honor of Miss Louise Schwab, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Schwab, Commercial-st., who will be married Sept. 22 to Joseph Williams. Dice was played and prizes were awarded to Mrs. Martin Williams and Miss Elizabeth Diener. Fifteen guests were present.

Miss Margaret Henkel, 914 N. Durkee-st., entertained Friday evening at her home in honor of Miss Bonita Brown, who will leave Sunday for Milwaukee where she will attend the State Teachers' college. Music and cards provided the entertainment. Prizes at cards were awarded to Miss Viola Schmidt and Miss Marion Fentz. The guest of honor was presented with several guest prizes.

About 300 friends of John Sawall, Stephensville, were entertained at a dancing party at Stephensville hall Friday evening the day before Mr. and Mrs. Sawall's wedding anniversary. Old time dancing featured, the party lasting until early morning. Several candidates for county office were invited to speak to the crowd.

Mrs. L. O. Wiseman and Mrs. Vincent Thomas entertained at a shower Friday evening at the home of the former, 204 S. Morrison-st., in honor of Miss Irene Wiseman whose marriage to Harold Roeder will take place Sept. 20. Dice was played and prizes won by Miss Ethel Huntton and Mrs. E. Shackelford. Eight guests were present. Miss Wiseman was presented with a gift.

Fourteen teachers of First Ward school held an outing at Potato Point Thursday evening. A round of miniature golf was played after the picnic supper.

About 30 young people of First Baptist church were entertained Friday evening by the Rev. and Mrs. Ernest Hasselblad at their home, 1221 W. Harris-st. Games and songs provided the entertainment. Mrs. Evelyn Carlson and Mrs. Hasselblad were in charge of the entertainment.

Miss Loretta McKeever and Matthew Kern will give a public wedding dance Tuesday evening at the Stephensville auditorium. They will be married Tuesday morning at St. Patrick church, Stephensville.

CLAIMS CIRCUS STUNT BLINDED ONE OF EYES

Oklahoma City, Okla. — (P) — The spectacle of a man being shot from a cannon literally knocked his eye out, Vancel Melka, Enid, alleged in a suit for $20,000 damages against Barnum and Bailey and Ringling Brothers circus.

While Melka was watching the stunt at a circus performance in Enid the cannon backfired and he caught injury which resulted in the loss of sight of one eye, Melka's petition related.

New College Pupils To Be Greeted At Churches

New students at Lawrence college will be welcomed to their respective churches next Sunday afternoon after the interdenominational vesper service at All Saints Episcopal church, when receptions will be given by most of the young people's societies of the churches. Special programs are being planned for the entertainment of the new students.

The Christian Endeavor society of Memorial Presbyterian church will hold a reception at the church after the vesper service Sunday. The entertainment committee includes Miss Annette Heller and Miss Helen Werner. Games and music will be included on the program.

Marshall Hulbert will give vocal selections, Russell Wichmann will accompany him, and Mrs. John Engel, Jr., will read. Dr. J. A. Holmes, pastor, will speak. Earl Miller is president of the group. There will be representatives from the group at the interdenominational vespers at the Episcopal church.

For Wee Tots

BY ANNEBELLE WORTHINGTON
This quaint pretty girl would make any wee girl of 2 and 6 years the center of admiration.

And it's just as simple as can be. It's pale blue batiste.

The brief yoked bodice in French blue matches the trimming bands of the skirt, and appears again in cuff bands of the long sleeves.

Your little girl will look just as sweet in Style No. 2686.

Dotted Swiss, printed batiste, plain dotted voile, linen, organdy, wool challis prints, crepe de chine and pastel wool jersey are darling suggestions.

Size 4 requires 1 1/2 yards 39-inch with 3/4 yard 39-inch contrasting. Pattern price 15 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred). Be sure to fill in size of pattern. Address Pattern Department, Spend 10c to save $10.

How? By ordering a copy of our new Fall and Winter Patterns. It gives the answer to the often asked question, "How does she do it?" For it shows how to dress up to the minute at little expense. MRS. CLAPP TO BE SECRETARY AT WOMAN'S CLUB

Mrs. R. N. Clapp was reelected as office secretary at the Appleton Women's club at a meeting of the board of directors held at the clubrooms Friday evening. The club will continue along its usual schedule, open from 9 o'clock in the morning to 5 o'clock in the afternoon.

A display of asters and dahlias will be held in connection with the housewarming next Thursday, under the direction of Mrs. D. J. O'Connor, chairman of the Garden committee. It was also decided to hold small flower displays at the clubhouse of flowers in season at different periods of the year.

Advertising the appearance of Admiral Byrd and of Dudley Crafts Watson, artist lecturer was discussed.

The hospitality committee will be in charge of arrangements for the Thursday meeting. Mrs. Arthur Zuehlke is chairman of the committee instead of Mrs. E. F. Mielke, as announced yesterday.

CLUB TO MOVE STORAGE ROOM

Appleton Apostolate will move its store room next week from the Catholic home to Hotel Appleton, where it will be open one day each week. All who come after clothing must have a card from a member of the relief committee. Mrs. William Schultz is in charge of the store room. Those who have clothes to donate will bring them to Catholic home from where they will be transferred to the store room. Mrs. Gustave Keller, Sr., is president of the Apostolate.

The Story of Sue

by MARGERY HALE
© 1929 BY NEA SERVICE, INC.

SUE was folding the last letter which she had received from Corrinne into its original creases. She wouldn't take this letter home, she decided. It told too many personal things about Jack. Then she remembered that the rest of the day was a news event, and not recognize its significance. She put it into her pocketbook. She had been invited to join a business girls' club and was supposed to attend the first meeting that night. With the crisp white pages of Corrinne's letter, filled with rag-tag ends of merriment, she suddenly hated the meeting.

She would have to go and smile and be courteous to a lot of girls and women who talked about careers and business efficiency, and wasted their charm on one another. She wanted to have glamor, something illusive and sparkling and as fragile as chiffon. Something to remember.

Outside the office rain was turning to snow. Down south the ocean would be blue, touched with cloudy gold, and after awhile girls in crisp organdy and whispering chiffon would dance with athletic looking men, and stroll out to a night that was lavish with stars and flower scents and love and romance. . . . and Jack would have the beguiling Julia Gerard with him. Sue's lips curled a little. Somehow she couldn't take Julia seriously. It seemed that Jack would step out of his storybook world when spring came and the widow would drift away.

But she wanted youth tonight. She wanted to do something with the tumult in her veins and heart. Ted would put on his tuxedo and join Jean Brady's sister Joan again.

He was doing it quite frequently. The telephone rang, and a low voice said her name. "Sue?"

"Yes." She let him start the conversation, still wondering who it was. Then enlightenment came. "Ronald Johnson? What are you doing here?"

"I'm taking a vacation for a week-end. Will you help me celebrate tonight?"

"Of course I will!" The business girls' club could manage without her. "What do you want to do?"

It ended with Sarah Slade and William Burton joining them for dinner at the only hotel which had dancing and music. Sue had hesitated at first, feeling sure that Ted and Joan would be there. It was foolish to make Sarah feel the pang which usually came when a girl sees the man she likes preferring another girl. She knew. But Sarah fell in with the plans gaily enough.

Her eyes were restless and bright, and the orange flame of her dress was shining, vivid like a sheath of silken water.

Sue had hesitated a little about her own dress. The white velvet which had been a farewell gift from Corrinne was too elaborate.

Finally she put on a blue dress, midnight with silver. Corrinne had sent it from Florida. Corrinne, who was so generous and so thoughtless. She had spent money for this dress and forgotten the emerald.

Sue found the party for which she was looking. Ted was bending towards Joan, his face eager and handsome. Sarah, noticed them at the same time. Barbara and Jean Brady were alone.

Hints For The Shopper

Good table linen has a tight weave and its finish is clean and smooth. Most linens have sizing in them—because shoppers really demand it—but the sizing comes out in the first wash. However, this does not affect the serviceability of good linen. Linen being relatively cheap at present, the majority of table cloths are all linen—that is, they have no adulterants.

Washability is the most important factor. But this cannot be controlled by the stores. Since most linens are imported, the stores cannot be held responsible for the failure of a particular lot to hold its color. Reputable stores, however, will usually make a refund or exchange if the linen fails to give reasonable satisfaction.

My Neighbor Says...

Seasoning added to the water, in which chicken is being boiled, help give a delicious, savory meat. The amounts can be varied to suit the taste, but the following kinds and proportions are satisfactory for one ham: 2 carrots, diced; 1 small onion stuck with several cloves; a stalk or two of celery, diced; 1 sprig of parsley and a few pepper corns.

If apples or tomatoes are pricked with a fork before baking they will not break open while cooking.

When you are cleaning a room make some powered whitening into a thin paste with cold water and smear this mixture over the panes with a piece of rag. When dry light by rub off and polish the glass with clean dusters. The window is thus cleaned easily and quickly.

Four cups of flour equal one pound.

WE WOMEN by Betty Brainerd

BY BETTY BRAINERD "Finish your oatmeal, Peg," her mother used to beg, "then you can go out and play." Three-year-old Peg would take a quick gulp of milk and avoid what she disliked a moment longer.

Figuratively speaking, Peg still swallows her oatmeal only when she can no longer avoid it, which is when it grows coldly unpleasant.

She is a procrastinating type of girl. At school, Peg was full of excuses for herself. "I'll bring my homework tomorrow," was her everlasting excuse—but she never did.

Friends know better than to expect her to reply to letters. "You know I've intended to write you at least half a dozen times, but somehow I just never got around to it," she explains apologetically to the new acquaintance.

Peg planned to go to college. But by the time she made her choice, the application list for that year was filled.

She never makes a decision at the moment, if she can help it. "I'll let you know tomorrow," is her invariable answer to invitations. Usually she forgets that she has promised to let two persons know—until both call up at the same time.

"My summer is all over," she exclaimed ruefully today. "Where has 1930 gone? The things I planned to do on New Year's Day!"

She just finished packing the last of her winter wardrobe in moth balls last week. By next May she will probably succeed in stowing summer clothing away!

She intends to learn to swim—so day. But whenever she calls at a pool a class has just started—she waits to enter the next one. Somehow, that one, too, gets started without her and so she waits again.

Love will have to be blind indeed to endure Peg's housekeeping. In spring cleaning probably will place some time in late fall.

If she succeeds in preparing luncheon by three in the afternoon it will be a record day for her. The husband who expects her to get breakfast will be a new species optimist.

Poor Peg! There is just one thing she can't delay—Time. It goes ticking right along without her, not minute longer than it ever was. Some bitter day she will make a discovery that there isn't any more for her. . . . She will have a thought and regret for the things she did do when she was the Procrastinator Girl.

HIGHWAY GROUP HEARS DEMAND FOR NEW BRIDGE

Span Across Fox River at DePere Is Unsafe Commissioner Is Told

The bridge across the Fox river at DePere is unsafe and immediate steps should be taken to provide a new one according to testimony presented to the state highway commission at a hearing at Green Bay this week. The hearing was held for the purpose of attempting to establish the need for a new bridge. Sentiment was entirely in favor of a new bridge, but the question of location was not taken up. Jerry Donohue, who presided, stated that the commission would investigate all possible sites before reaching a final determination.

Elimination of the location question eliminated most of the ground for controversy, and as a result there was none. Many DePere business men had come to the meeting in case an attempt was made to place the west approach of the structure at any point other than Main ave.

Frank P. Charlesworth, Kaukauna, who acts as city engineer of DePere, cited some startling facts. In 1905 he said, George P. Hawley, consulting engineer, stated that the bridge was too light to support a concrete flooring. In 1914, a Chicago firm of consulting engineers gave the structure a maximum life of five years. In 1915, Grailing Bros repaired the bridge and estimated that, with the repairs, it would last five years, possibly ten—making 1925 the ultimate limit. In that year, another inspection resulted in a finding that the bridge was unsafe. It has been unsafe ever since, Mr. Charlesworth declared, the abutments are falling away, despite braces; the piers have been undermined by the current and the 5-ton load limit is too light for present day traffic.

Charles Kersch, bridge engineer for the state highway commission, declared that the bridge was not what it should be, and would cost a considerable sum each year for maintenance.

George J. Cormier, county highway commissioner, estimated that 5,000 vehicles a day cross the bridge, and expressed the belief that a new bridge is absolutely necessary.

present, he pointed out, the county cannot cross with its snow plows and other heavy equipment, which must go around by way of Green Bay. In this connection, Mayor Kiley commented that many DePere manufacturers must truck their products across the bridge to connect with the highway transportation companies which will not

Beef Rissoles
Mince some fresh beef very fine, removing all skin and gristle. Mix it with about a fourth of its weight in bread crumbs, adding an onion boiled tender, and a few drops of essence of anchovy, pepper and salt, and sufficient egg to make it into a stiff paste. Roll into egg-shaped balls, dip each in egg, roll in bread crumbs, and fry gently. Then prepare a little gravy by boiling the trimmings of the meat in the water the onion was boiled in; when they are done, pour the fat from the frying pan and allow the gravy to boil up in it, and thicken with a small quantity of flour and lemon.

Gooseberry Cream
Take two pounds of green gooseberries, or less, and wash them. Take three breakfast cups of water and boil them until they will easily mash. Strain the juice through a fine sieve and weigh it; add one pound of sugar to every pound of fruit, return to the pan and boil for twenty minutes longer. Put sufficient gelatin into a saucepan with a breakfast cupful of cream, stir it over the fire until dissolved, but not drive their big vans across the structure. L. L. Tessier expressed the belief that, although the bridge proper was built from 1891 to 1894, the drawspan was constructed in 1894, and was later removed upstream to its present location. That drawspan, according to Ray P. Dillon, is opened from 12 to 18 times a day during navigation season, frequently causing traffic to choke up all the way across the bridge. James Hughes referred to the bridge as the "bottle neck" in DePere's traffic system.

DISCOVER RELICS OF FRANKLIN EXPEDITION

Fort McMurray, Alta.—(AP)—A pair of bearskin trousers, a blue jacket and part of a tent covering, relics of the Franklin expedition, have been brought from King Williams' island by Major L. T. Burwash and his pilot, W. E. Gilbert.

Gilbert said the relics were found in rock cairns, which showed evidence of having been looted by natives.

He said numerous graves, laid out in orderly rows, were found, indicating that members of Sir John Franklin's party of 169 died on by one and were buried by their companions. Scoury and starvation are assumed to have caused the deaths. Bones and skeletons were found in some of the cairns.

Burwash and Gilbert flew to King Williams' island on a Canadian government expedition to observe the shift of the north magnetic pole and to seek relics of the Franklin expedition.

Gilbert said that when they flew over the magnetic pole the needle of their compass dipped violently.

AIDED UNEMPLOYED

U. S. Attorney Says Opponents Can't Equal Kohler's Record

Minneapolis — (AP)— Gov. Walter Kohler has done more to relieve unemployment in Wisconsin than his political opponents can accomplish during the rest of their lives. Harold E. Hanson, assistant U. S. district attorney, Madison, declared in a radio speech here last night.

"Progressive legislation never has and never will create jobs for laboring men nor lighten their taxes," Hanson said. "The Progressive party's antagonism to industry during the 20 years of control in Wisconsin drove many industries from the state and discouraged untold others from coming in."

"The complaint that Wisconsin is controlled by dangerous and horrible monsters fostered by regular republicans is a time-worn and overworked campaign noise-maker which the Madison Ring has resurrected for the current campaign."

"They have acquired for this year's showing two mammoth new monsters, 'chain banks' and 'chain stores,'" he continued. "Each specimen is the only one in captivity and was discovered and captured especially for this year's showing by 'Prince Philip the First' and 'Henry the Hater,' aided and assisted by 'Whimperer Willie Byue,' demagogue of deluxe and whiner extraordinary of the Madison Ring."

Gilbert said that when they flew over the magnetic pole the needle of their compass dipped violently.

THE SHOW-OFF

Spencer is a very good child until company comes. Then he is terrible. He begins showing off the moment the visitors enter and keeps it up either until the end of the visit, or until he is taken out of the room. Stern looks, hints, suggestions that something far away from the scene needs immediate attention, positive orders—all pass over his head. He keeps on being the life of the party until he is forcibly removed.

"Imagine having a child stand on his head, creep under the table and shout Eoo and jump into a lady's lap. He frightens one with his antics. He bores people to death. He makes us perfectly miserable whenever a guest appears. We dread an arrival as we would the plague. What is to be done with a child like that?"

Usually he is an only child. He gets scant audience from the busy family. There is no one to share his thought, no opportunity for him to try himself out. The appearance of an auditor, brand new, is a stroke of great good luck. He seizes the chance and begins.

Of course you tell him privately that visitors do not like to be surprised, they are too grown-up to enjoy noise, that they would rather see a child standing on his feet than on his head.

Next you try to provide opportunities for self-expression in speech, action, and co-operation. That means

DRUNKEN DRIVER ALSO MAY FACE LARCENY CHARGE

Find Car Being Driven by St. Clair Was Stolen at Little Chute

Menasha—Charles St. Clair, 22, Menasha, may face larceny charges at the conclusion of his 90-day stay in the county jail, according to Police Chief James Lyman. A car and a wristwatch found in St. Clair's possession when he was arrested for drunken driving early Friday morning have been found to be stolen property.

St. Clair claimed that the car he was driving belonged to a friend of his whose name he did not know. The ownership of the machine was traced to John Hammen of Little Chute who stated that it had been stolen from a parking place near his place of business Thursday evening. He said he heard someone start the car but that it was gone before he could apprehend the thieves.

Another count that may be lodged against St. Clair is the theft of a wrist watch found on his person by Menasha police. When questioned he was unable to give a satisfactory explanation of where he got it and following an investigation it was identified as one of those stolen at the Menasha Memorial building several weeks ago.

When questioned Friday by Menasha police officials, St. Clair stated that he was born in West Virginia. He is an ex-convict who has been a resident of this city for about a month.

SOCIAL ITEMS AT MENASHA

Menasha—The Mystic Juniors will hold their annual election of officers at a meeting in the Menasha Memorial building Saturday. In addition to the business meeting and election of officers, plans for fall activity will be discussed.

The first of a series of dances to be sponsored by the Polish Falcon Athletic association will be given in the Falcon hall Saturday evening. Chief Maute's dance orchestra will furnish the music.

The auxiliary of Henry J. Lenz post of American legion is planning a card party to be held in the Armory Thursday evening. Bridge, whist, and schafkopf will be played.

Carl Wettenberg, Appleton, will entertain friends at a formal dinner dance at the North Shore country club Saturday evening. An elaborate entertainment program has been planned.

The Band Mothers' club is planning a foot sale to be held at the Thrilling hardware store, Saturday afternoon, Sept. 20. The sale will be the first of a series of activities sponsored by club members in a drive to raise funds for the 1931 state band concert to be staged in this city.

Menasha Eagle Ladies held a business and social meeting in the chapter hall Friday evening. Following the business session cards were played and a luncheon served. Honors in bridge went to Miss Emma Grossel, Mrs. Flora Heup and Mrs. Ralph Sues. A card party is planned for Sept. 30.

The Women's Catholic Order of Foresters, St. Patrick parish, will entertain at a public card party in the school hall Monday evening. Bridge, whist and schafkopf will be played and a luncheon served.

POSTPONE TRIAL OF MENASHA DRIVER

Menasha—On the request of attorneys for defense, the case against George McHugh, Menasha, charged with reckless driving, was postponed until Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock. McHugh figures in an automobile accident on Racine street Aug. 17, in which four machines were damaged and will be tried in Justice court before Justice of the Peace John Marsh.

FIRE CHIEF BACK FROM CONVENTION

Menasha—Paul Theimer, chief of the Menasha fire department, returned to this city Friday evening after attending the international convention of fire chiefs conducted in Winnipeg, Canada during the past week. About 800 fire department officials attended the meeting. Theimer stated that a report of convention activities will be presented to the common council at either the mid-month meeting to be held Wednesday evening or the first meeting next month.

Menasha—What promises to be a classic in amateur soft ball will be staged on the Wisconsin Tissue Mills diamond Sunday morning when the Soo Line squad battles the Northwestern team for the railroad supremacy. Parker will be on the mound for the Northwestern while Hickenbecker working behind the plate. Jape and Rischel will compose the Soo Line battery.

HIGH SCHOOL BAND TO PRESENT CONCERT

Menasha—The Menasha High school band, under the direction of L. E. Kraft, played the last of a series of weekly band concerts on the west end of Main-st. Friday evening. An unusually large audience enjoyed the entertainment.

The high school band, recently enlarged to 72 pieces, has presented the last five of a series of weekly concerts given this summer. The St. Mary high school band provided the first five entertainments.

PLAY ALL SOFT BALL GAMES OVER WEEKEND

Menasha—All Industrial league soft ball games, scheduled for Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday of this week are being played Saturday and Sunday. The change in schedule was made in order to allow seven innings of play before dark.

The Whiting squad, cellar champions, took the field against the strong Gilbert team at 2 o'clock and the league leading Banta will play the Cartons at 4:30. The game between the Woodenware team and the Central paper makers will be staged Sunday morning.

GRIDDERS HOLD NIGHT PRACTICE

High School Squad Finds No Difficulty in Following Ball Under Lights

Menasha—A practice session under the artificial illumination at Butte des Moris athletic field was conducted by the Menasha high school football team Friday evening. The work-out was the first night session held, but players had no difficulty in following the ball with the field and a large area around it well illuminated by the huge flood lights.

That the squad will not be without a long distance kicker in the coming season was apparent in Friday's practice. Albert Novakowski, one of the younger candidates for the team, was lifting long spiraling 50 and 60 yard punts, and under the direction of Coach-Nathan Calder should become one of the most formidable booters in the conference. Joseph Shields, Appleton high school coach, and Eddie Koral, coach of the Lawrence college Vikings, witnessed the Menasha workout Friday.

BOWLING LEAGUE ORGANIZES TEAMS

Menasha—The City Bowling league held an organization meeting at the Evening Recreation alleys Thursday evening. Teams were formed and arrangements made for the beginning of the league season Sept. 15.

The Menasha Ladies Bowling league also held a meeting at the Healy alyes Thursday evening. Handicaps were arranged and plans made for the league season. According to league authorities, the organization lacks three bowlers of having eight teams. As soon as the additional three entries are made, a final meeting will be held to complete the team organization.

FALCONS WILL MEET LITTLE CHUTE NINE

Menasha—Jerry Powell, Falcon right hander, will hurl for the Polish players when they meet the Little Chute nine at Menasha Recreation park Sunday afternoon. Powell has won five games in as many starts for the Falcons and little trouble is expected in defeating the down river squad.

Only a half game behind the league leading Wrightstown nine and tied with the Appleton Athletics for second place, the Falcons must win Sunday to keep their position in the league and a chance for the pennant. After the Little Chute battle, a tilt with Kaukauna to be staged in Menasha, Sept. 21, will close the season for the Falcons.

ASSOCIATION STARTS DRIVE FOR MEMBERS

Menasha—Under the direction of Harry Omrochinski and George Elvers, committee members, the Neenah-Menasha Association is beginning a drive for additional members. Literature will be circulated among Twin City business men pointing out the purposes of the organization and its benefits.

Plans for the fall opening, conducted by committees of the Association, are nearing completion. The dates set are Sept. 18, 19, and 20, and all individual members as well as committee workers, are working on the project.

BOY'S GRID SQUAD GETS NEW SWEATERS

Menasha—The Grove football team, tied for first place in the Menasha junior league, have been completely outfitted with grey sweat shirts, donated by the Grove Clothing company. The junior league is composed entirely of players under 16 years of age and are active in baseball as well as football.

AUTHORIZE PURCHASE OF CHILDREN'S BOOKS

Menasha—Authorization of the purchase of a large shipment of juvenile books, conforming to Wisconsin Reading Circle list requirements, was made at a meeting of library officials with the library book committee Friday evening. The books will be ordered immediately.

EBERLEIN TALKS AT MENASHA MEETING

Menasha—M. G. Eberlein, candidate for election to the office of attorney general, addressed a large number of Menasha residents from the band platform on the west end of Main-st. Friday evening. Eberlein, who is a regular republican candidate, spoke in favor of the reelection of Governor Kohler.

HEALTH CONDITIONS GOOD IN MENASHA

Menasha—With the exception of a single case of mumps and a rapidly diminishing epidemic of intestinal influenza, health conditions in Menasha are good, according to Dr. W. P. McGrath, city physician. One case of scarlet fever is the only contagious disease reported to city officials.

Miss Marie Webster was surprised Friday evening at her home on Fourth-st. by a group of young women employed at the Carton company office, who called for a farewell visit before Miss Webster leaves Tuesday for Madison where she will enter University of Wisconsin for a course of study. Cards were played.

COLORED WOMAN CUT WHEN CARS COLLIDE

Neenah—Mrs. Charles Chappelle, colored vaudeville artist from Chicago, is at Theda Clark hospital with cuts and bruises received at 2 o'clock Saturday morning when the car in which she was riding with her husband collided with a car driven by R. V. VanPeenan of Kalamazoo, Mich., at the intersection of Wisconsin-ave and Commercial-st. Both cars were badly damaged.

Van Peenan, in company with Miss Fern McGregor of Appleton, were driving east on Wisconsin-ave and turned left on N. Commercial-st. to go north when they were met by Chappelle's car which was proceeding south on its way to La Crosse where the couple was to have filled an engagement Saturday night. The occupants of the Van Peenan car were uninjured. Due to the slippery condition of the pavement following the early morning rain, the cars skidded when Van Peenan attempted to swing his machine toward the south to avoid the collision.

ZONING PLANS ARE OUTLINED AT MEET

Neenah—A hearing for Second and Fourth ward property owners was conducted Friday evening by the plan commission at the city hall where the proposed zoning map and ordinance was presented. The different districts for residential, light business, manufacturing and heavy manufacturing, were explained. Few complaints were registered at the meeting. ANNOUNCE SCHEDULE FOR BOWLING TEAMS

Neenah—Schedules for the season's bowling league games have been arranged by the Neenah Bowling association which will open its new recreation hall next Wednesday evening. Monday nights will be devoted to Knights of Columbus teams; the City league will occupy the alleys on Tuesday nights; Wednesday evenings will be alternated by the Ladies' league and the Commercial league, which will bowl at 7 o'clock one week and at 9 o'clock the following week throughout the season. The Eagles will bowl their matches Thursday evenings and part of the 20 Kimberly-Clark ladies league will bowl on Thursday afternoons. Kimberly-Clark men's matches will be rolled Friday evenings with the remainder of the ladies' teams bowling on Friday afternoon. Saturday and Sunday will be open for the public. All matches will start promptly at 7 and 9 o'clock each evening. It is possible that several three-men teams will be formed for a league to roll Sunday afternoons.

CAR STRIKES BINDER; TWO MEN ARE INJURED

Neenah—Walter Koepke, route 24 Omro, formerly of Neenah, sustained minor injuries Thursday evening when knocked from the seat of a binder he was driving on the Berlin road between Omro and Bureka. The binder upon which Koepke was riding, was struck from the rear by an auto driven by Dale Loker, who also resides on route 24. Koepke was taken to Mercy hospital at Oshkosh where an examination revealed a wrenched back and several minor cuts on his body and head.

Loker sustained a scalp wound and a cut on the hand. Both binder and automobile were badly damaged. Loker and Koepke were proceeding west on the highway. It was dark, Loker stated, and he had the headlights on. The automobile met another car, coming from the west, and Loker stated he was temporarily blinded by the glare of the lamps on the other machine. When the other car had passed, he claimed he saw the binder immediately in front of him, about 15 feet away. Turning to avoid a collision, the auto hit the binder on the rear left side.

Celebrated 70th Birthday

The years have dealt generously with Gen. John Joseph Pershing, for as you see him here—erect, alert, and still busy at his desk in the War Department in Washington—he was sitting for his seventieth birthday picture. The former Commander in Chief of the A. E. F. in the World War, and Chief of Staff on the U. S. Army from 1921 to 1924, was retired from active service at the age of 64. But now, with his seventieth birthday on September 13, General Pershing is chief of the Battle Monuments Commission.

Your Birthday

WHAT TOMORROW MEANS TO YOU
"Virgo"

If September 14th is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 10 a. m. to 11:30 a. m., from 4 p. m. to 5 p. m., and 9 p. m. to 10:30 p. m. The danger periods are from 7 a. m. to 8 a. m., and 6 p. m. to 7 p. m.

It will be proved today that every day is a vessel into which much may be poured if we fill it to the brim. The heart will be awake to love and beauty, and the mind will soar to your castles in the air, where the workaday world will be forgotten. Little action, much thought.

The child born on this September 14th will spend a great part of its life in thought, rather than in action. It is a born planner and schemer, and will prove to be the man or woman behind the gun. It will be both inventive and original, and will have a reflective mind. It will be demonstrative in its affections.

During the early years of your life you will foolishly adopt a sheep-like habit, and will follow your leader—the leader in your case being the Custom in your own little class circle. Eventually you will rebel, and will dare to exercise your own choice and capacity in regard to your individual work, play and general interests. You are neither a negotiator or neutral being, and the positiveness of your nature will be bound to come to the front.

You are naturally optimistic. You do not wait till the clouds roll by, but keep on working in the rain. You know how to laugh, and it is said that laughter, by putting us in a good humour, enables us to tolerate ourselves and to tolerate each other. You know how to knuckle down to work, and you know how to resign yourself to the enjoyment of life.

There is a good adjustment between caution and adventure in your makeup. After you have done your best—and you usually do give your best efforts and thoughts—you seldom grieve over the results. You are very broad-minded and modern minded. You have faith, but you mix a strong arm with it. You move first, and let Providence move second. Fortune or flattery will never spoil you, and you will receive them both. You are courteous and have charming manners, and a convincing personality.

Kaukauna News

Kaukauna Inventor Has Interesting Shop

Kaukauna—Among the interesting places in Kaukauna is the "Hobby Shop" of William Hood, located in the basement of his home on Canal-st. Mr. Hood, who is a machinist by trade, has added things he made to the shop for about 50 years until it is crammed with interesting devices.

The basement is a tiny machine shop, which includes a small forge, anvil, cutting and punching machines, shaving machine, a lathe, and several small engines. Mr. Hood who does not work regularly, now spends most of his time in his shop tinkering with his own inventions.

Rambling among the curios that he has made and collected, one finds many interesting things for study. Mr. Hood has traveled to the four ends of the United States and has a collection of things worth seeing.

On entering the shop one notices an old combination lathe and punching machine that has been in his possession for more than 40 years.

The machine is worked by footpedal with a seat for the worker. A system of gears makes it possible to use the lathe as a punching machine.

There are a number of presses and drilling, cutting machines that have been made by Mr. Hood. The machines were completed by him during his spare time, some taking over a period of 10 years. In making his tools he strives for precision and accuracy, Mr. Hood said.

One of the more interesting things in the shop is a 10-day clock that also marks the day of the month. A large dial is attached to the top of the clock with each day of the month marked on it. A system of small gears makes an indicator the distance moving one day with each 24 hours run by the clock. The gears are all homemade.

He also has a velocimeter. It is made of a collapsible wheel with a device telling number of feet traveled. It is useful when walking in order to find the distance between two points. The wheel tells the distance to within the smallest fraction of an inch. Mr. Hood made the contrivance.

At the present time Mr. Hood is making a large punching machine. He fashions all the plates out of steel. All the bolts being used in the large machine are being made by him. He makes all the tools for his own use.

FIREMEN CALLED TO RESCUE BOY "STUCK" IN TREE

Kaukauna — Picking thorn apples isn't what it cracked up to be. At least that is what Wesley Allen, small son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Allen, Eight-st. thinks after spending an hour in one of the trees and then having the fire department called to get him down. Wesley had climbed into a tree near his home to get some of the luscious fruit when his knee caught in a crotch. The more he struggled to free himself the tighter his leg became wedged in the tree. As a last resort the fire department was called and the limbs were jacked apart to free the boy.

9 PLAYERS ENTER FINAL ROUND OF KAW GOLF TOURNEY

Winner of President's Cup Will Be Decided This Weekend

Kaukauna—Golfers in the Kaukauna handicap golf tournament being held at the Kaukauna Golf course will enter their third round of play this weekend. There are nine players competing for the president's trophy which will be awarded the winner. Four matches will be played while the ninth player draws a bye.

Thirty-eight players started in the tournament which began several weeks ago. William Harwood will play Gordon Mulholland, William Hays will play S. J. Berens, Harold Engstrom will play Fred Olson, and Dr. G. J. Flanagan will play Arthur Look. Sylvester Baler, who won his first two rounds drew a bye. Some good scores are expected to be made by the players during this round which will reduce the number of contestants to five.

Four of the nine players have a handicap of 30, the maxims given to any player in the tournament. They are Dr. G. J. Flanagan, Arthur Look, Harold Engstrom and S. J. Berens. William Harwood has the smallest handicap of 17. G. S. Mulholland has a handicap of 25, William Hays a handicap of 25, and Fred Olson a handicap of 29.

DRAMA OF MODERN JAZZ LIFE WILL BE SHOWN IN CITY

Picture Answers Age-old Question, "What Men Want"

The burning question of the day—The query of life in every sphere—What men want?

Answered in masterful fashion by the pleasure-loving existence of the fast society set in the Universal all-star special all-talking production "What Men Want," showing at the Elite theatre Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Warner Fabian wrote a great story in "Flaming Youth."

He has written a greater one in "What Men Want."

Gay parties, giddy love affairs—And underneath it all the same all-embracing question: What Men Want?

With a marvellous cast, including Pauline Starke, Ben Lyon, Barbara Kent, Robert Ellis, Hallam Cooley and other famous stars; with a gorgeousness of production unsurpassed—directed by Ernst Laemmle.

Don't fail to see this intriguing, revealing film of sophisticated pleasure and primitive passions. Youth must be served—and youth serves itself in its own reckless way. The giddy whirl, and then the piper of their own emotions! For women must solve the question—What Men Want.

FILM PICTURE IN EXACT SEQUENCE

Constance Bennett and Lew Ayres Play Leads in "Common Clay"

What is believed to be a record in talking pictures—that of filming a production in exact sequence—was achieved in the making of "Common Clay" by Director Victor Fleming for Fox Vitaphone, with Constance Bennett and Lew Ayres in the leading roles.

"Most pictures," Fleming explains, "are made according to the requirements of stage-space, preparation of sets, to economize on the salary of high-priced players by first shooting all the scenes in which they appear and so on. Thus the final sequences of a production may be actually filmed first, the opening sequences next and the middle sequences last."

"What such a method may save a certain percentage of the cost of making a film, it unquestionably works a hardship on the players in that they have no opportunity to 'build up' their emotion from one scene to the next. On the other hand, by beginning with the first scene in the script and going on in the exact order in which the continuity is written, the players are enabled to pass smoothly and naturally through their various parts and can give more thought to their logical character development. We followed this latter method throughout the production of 'Common Clay' which perhaps accounts for some of the praise the picture has been receiving from screen critics."

Besides Miss Bennett and Mr. Ayres the cast of the film includes Tully Marshall, Beryl Mercer, Mable Hamilton and other favorites. It is a faithful and unusually dramatic version of Clives Kinkead's Harvard prize stage success and will have its local premiere at the Fox Theatre next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

FIND OLD FORDS TO BE TEMPERMENTAL

Even Opera Stars Are No More Troublesome Movie Director Says

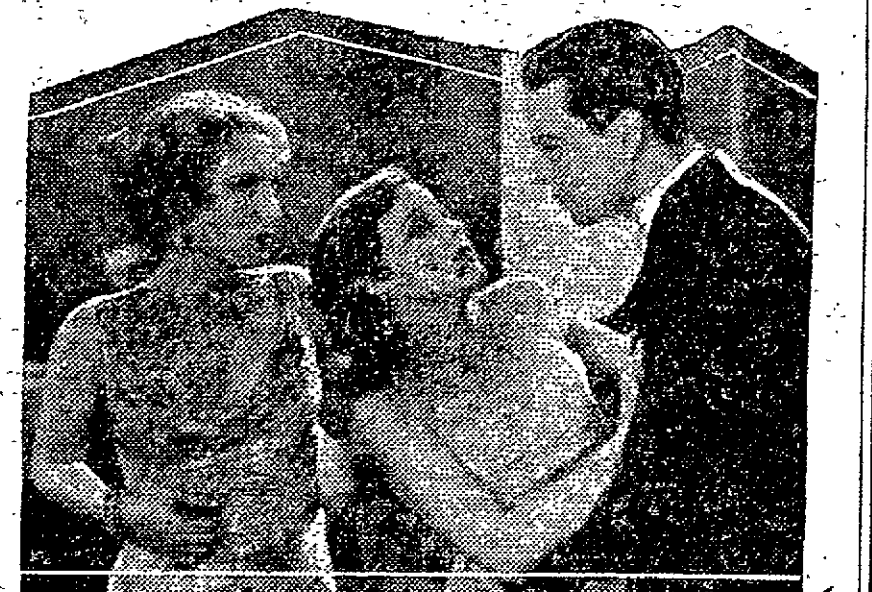

Ford cars of the 1916 vintage and Californian weather are no respecters of cinema art, Director Clarence Badger learned while on location at Red Rock Canyon filming "The Bad Man," a First National and Vitaphone production coming to the Appleton theatre Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

The combination of cloudy weather and the temperamental Ford which performed only at wholly unexpected intervals cost the company thousands of dollars while Walter Huston, James Rennie, Sidney Blackmer and Dorothy Revier, principals in the film, sat in a luxurious limousine parked on the Mojave desert and enjoyed a game of bridge.

The particular bit of action which caused the delay called for James Rennie to drive the Ford touring car up a bumpy incline on the desert. When the sun came out the Ford seemed to be hitting well enough to make the grade there was not enough light to take the scene. Another car could not be substituted because the script called for the old Ford obtainable and the company was several hundred miles from the nearest town.

Marion Byron, comedienne, suggested that someone push the Ford. Accordingly, the next time the sun came out two prop boys got behind the uncertain machine out of camera range and helped it safely over the bumps. The scene was finally perfectly filmed and the Ford's wheezes convincingly Vitaphoned only after eight-hours' effort.

Stars in New Picture

"Flaming Youth," his first motion picture story, made Warner Fabian famous with audiences throughout the world. Now he has written another fast-moving epic of the jazz age, "What Men Want" which comes to the Elite Theatre on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday with Pauline Starke, Ben Lyon, Barbara Kent, Robert Ellis, Hallam Cooley and Carmelita Geraghty heading the all-star cast. Ernst Laemmle directed for Universal.

JAPANESE FISHING BOAT IS AGROUND IN STRAITS

Hongkong — (AP) — With eighteen men clinging desperately to the rigging, the Japanese fishing trawler Ibuki Maru, aground in Hainan straits, today was breaking up fast under the pitiless pounding of heavy seas.

H. M. Oller Pearl, bound for Singapore from Hongkong, has been diverted from her course and is hurrying to the scene. Other vessels are standing by but all rescue attempts thus far have failed and it is feared it will be impossible to save the men since the trawler is settling down rapidly.

WHITEMAN STARS IN NEW PICTURE HERE NEXT WEEK

Noted Musician Was Lately Born With Violin In His Hands

Paul Whiteman, who is star with his entire orchestra in Universal's spectacular "King of Jazz," which comes to the Fox Theatre next Thursday and Friday was literally born with a violin in his hand.

His father, Wilberforce J. Whiteman, was director of musical education at the Denver Col. schools thirty years. His mother sang oratorio and in the Denver choir. And when Paul was three years old, his father gave him his first violin.

Paul was educated at the Denver City Schools, and at seventeen was chief viola player in the Denver Symphony orchestra. Just the "ragtime" was beginning to become popular, and in 1915 Whiteman left his native Denver to go to San Francisco and play in the world's first orchestra and Minetti's Stri Quartet.

After the Exposition, Paul got a job at Tall's then famous-restaurant as a jazz musician, but was actually fired because the days "ragtime" was so "hot" the manager, feeling that he was a hindrance to the orchestra, closed at Santa Barbara, California.

For quite a while Whiteman and his boys led a minstrel life, getting work where they could. Through an old friend who had been his music, he got his first real chance at the Alexandra Hotel, Los Angeles, then the favorite rendezvous of the movie stars.

From the time forward Whiteman's name became the synonym of the best in Jazz music. He went to the Ambassador, Atlantic City, signed a contract with the Victor Phonograph Company to make phonograph records. Since that time he has made and sold vast more records than any other recorder in the world.

A NICE GIRL COMES TO TOWN

Chapter 23
WANTED - A JOB
TONY deliberately began to make cutting remarks as soon as they had started to dance. "So he's The Ideal, Mary Lou. The man who's more serious, intellectual and better looking than I am?"

"Tony, don't!" she pleaded. "I'll grant that he is better looking, but I wouldn't bank on the intellect. I suppose you suffered my courting you, just waiting for this."

"Yes, of course," Mary Lou's voice was hollow. "That was only pretense, Tony."

Why should he want to hurt her this way? Hadn't he said that he intended to marry no one? Why should he object if she chose to marry some one else, even though she wasn't particularly enthusiastic about it?

"Well, this is what I hoped would happen," he continued sarcastically. "I hope you'll be happy with this chap. Come along back to the table. I'm going to drink champagne to your health."

"I can't," she stammered. "Please, please excuse me a moment. Tell Brynmor, I'll be back. She fled from his arms and into the cloak room."

"My coat, quick," she commanded the woman. "And have you a pencil and paper?"

The woman brought them.

"So sorry, Brynmor," she scribbled feverishly. "I feel ill. Am going home. Excuse me to Tony."

She addressed it on the outside after folding it, and handed the note to a bell boy in the lobby.

"Please find this gentleman," she told him, and left the boy gaping after her as she hailed a cab.

When Mary Lou did not reappear after a few minutes, as she had promised, both Brynmor and Tony became concerned with her unexpected absence. Later, when the bell boy delivered Mary Lou's note to Brynmor, he was completely upset.

"Well, old fellow," Tony remarked airily as they prepared to leave the hotel, "it looks like the little girl has let us out for, tonight."

They parted with forced cordiality.

Tony was shaken rudely from his slumbers about nine o'clock the next morning. He strongly despised any suggestion of rising before noon.

"Look here, Wallis, this is a bit thick," he muttered from his pillow. "You're discharged, do you hear?"

"This is not Wallis," said a gruff voice in his ear. "This is your Aunt Ethelberta."

"Jumping Jehoshaphat!" Tony looked up, startled, and blinked in amazement at the tall, formidable figure of his aunt.

"I came down here," Miss Titherington began, "to tell you exactly what I think of you."

Tony cocked a sleepy eye at her.

"It's most indecorous," you know, for a spinster of your age to thrust her way into a young bachelor's bedroom," he grinned.

"None of your foolishness," snapped Miss Titherington. "This is no joking matter."

She settled herself on a chair near the bed.

"It certainly isn't," countered Tony, "to be indecently awakened at this ungodly hour of the morning. And, by the way, aunt, I wish you'd get a new hat. I think you first wore that purple creation when I was in knee pants."

"Why didn't you tell me before?" demanded Miss Titherington, momentarily sidetracked by this new and disturbing revelation.

Tony shook a finger at her and winked.

"Tact, dear aunt, tact. That Titherington tact that has stood me in such good stead later in life."

"I suppose it's the famous Titherington tact that got you out of your engagement to that nice girl, Mary Lou," his aunt enquired.

"So you received my letter?" Tony grinned. "And don't call Mary Lou 'nice.' She wouldn't like it."

Miss Titherington ignored his last remark.

"Yes, your letter came by the mail last evening. That's why I've come to try to knock some sense into your brainless young head."

"This is utter nonsense. You'll Mary Lou at once, apologize whatever you've done to her, and make up."

Tony sighed.

"It's no use, aunt. There's other man. Ruthlessly the chain has come between us, lured away by glittering promises of gold under a sweet innocent nose, loaded with diamonds."

"Whatever are you talking about?" Miss Titherington rapped angrily.

"Put briefly," said Tony, "Mary Lou has become engaged to some one else."

"I refuse to believe it!"

"Hard facts must be faced with smile, even a philosophic shrug," Tony sighed again. "Anyhow, I was at the Savoy with them last night drinking their health in champagne. His name is Brynmor Whitmore. He's handsome, Welsh and the most utter ass I've ever met in my life," he ended with a trace of malice.

"That's more like it," Miss Titherington applauded. "And you mean to say you're going to sit the calmly..."

"Lie here, aunt," Tony corrected her.

"Sit there," shouted Miss Titherington, "sit there and allow this other whippersnapper to carry her under your nose?"

Tony clapped his hands together enthusiastically.

"Splendid, aunt! That's the stuff which brings down the curtain on a final war. Why don't you take your hand at writing for the times?"

Miss Titherington was nonplussed. "I refuse to stay here and argue with you."

"I wasn't arguing," Tony said meekly. "I was only advising you how to make the best use of your undeniable talent."

"Well," she remarked, "I have something to say on that subject. From now on you don't get a penny from me, so it'll be a good opportunity for you to make good use of your undeniable talents and find yourself a job."

Headless of Tony's protests, she stalked out of the room and left him staring after her.

"Well, that cooked it," he remarked philosophically to himself. "The absolutely cooked it. I wonder what I'm going to do now?"

As he lay gazing at the ceiling, wasn't the painful necessity of finding a job that engrossed his attention. He wondered, instead, what had prompted Mary Lou to do that home in such an extraordinary way?

Looking back at it, he felt that his own conduct had been rather excusable.

Somewhere he had been actuated by a savage desire to hurt her. Why should he have felt that way about it? Hadn't her prompt engagement to Brynmor freed his mind from any fear that he had let her down in any way himself?

Yet he found the thought of her marriage to Brynmor peculiarly irritating. Would he have felt this way had it been some other chap? Some other chap, say, of whom he approved? Of course not. Even then an uncomfortable sixth sense warned him that he would have felt much the same, whoever Mary Lou's new fiancee might have been.

"What on earth are you thinking about?" he pondered. "You know that you're not marrying anyone. That would mean the end of your life. And there's not a woman in the world worth that sacrifice."

All the same, he reflected more calmly, it would be best to see Mary Lou and tell her how sorry he was for his behavior of the preceding night.

Half an hour later this same business brought him to Jay's shop.

Outside the window he hesitated. Now that he was here what could he say to her? Rather abruptly he turned toward the door.

Once more he pause. There, of the side of the entrance, he saw a neat printed card "Smart Delivery Boy Wanted."

Thoughtfully he detached the card from the wall, pocketed it, and went into the shop.

The bad "breaks" for Tony reach a climax in tomorrow's chapter.

Open League Soccer Football Season Here Tomorrow

LOCAL SPORT CLUB PLAYING ITS FIRST YEAR IN STATE LOOP

Game Will Be Played at H. S. Football Practice Field; Begin at 2:30

APPLETON Sport Club Germania soccer football team will open the 1930 league season Sunday afternoon at Third ward high school practice field when it meets Sheboygan No. 1 team. The game is scheduled to begin at 2:30. The Appleton club is a member of the Eastern Wisconsin State Soccer Football league, which was organized in the spring of 1924 for the promotion of soccer football in Wisconsin and which has been growing rapidly since. The league abides by the rules of the United Football Association and teams play on a strictly amateur basis.

Appleton sport club was organized in March of this year by a group of young German immigrants, and guided by strong leaders now boasts an organization which has two good teams and many members who are ready to play if needed. The object of the group is to promote the sport in this section of the state. Soccer football is the national game of Europe.

The game as played here prohibits use of the hands or arms by all players except the goalkeeper, the ball being propelled by hitting it with the head, by kicking it or by using the shoulder or other parts of the body. As is usual when introducing a new sport, the fans are limited and there are many hardships to overcome. Lack of interest is a handicap to the players because there are expenses to be met and someone must stir up a bit of enthusiasm over things. Lately, however, fans are becoming interested in the sport and strong teams at Sheboygan, Oshkosh and Milwaukee have resulted in good turnouts.

A second division for weaker clubs in the state was provided by the league last year. Champions are awarded a cup and medals. The game is played during the fall and spring.

The club's headquarters are at 903 N. Morrison-st., and any soccer player regardless of nationality is invited to join the club.

Members of the team representing Appleton in Sunday's game are: Kolb, Farquhar, Rubsam, Gorgon, Boenning forwards; Kislewski, Mueller, and Jensen, half backs; Gruenewald and Humberger, full backs and Ogilvie goal.

Appleton, leaders through most of the season, will close at New London. Weyauwega will attempt to stop Readfield at Redfield, and Shiocton will battle the cellar champs Murphy's Corners.

Cubs, Robins, Cards Again Victors; Wilson, Ruth Hit Home Runs

Yankees Drop Out of Pennant Race When They Lose to Detroit

BY HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR. Associated Press Sports Writer
THE National league pennant race became even more thrilling Sunday at Chicago, St. Louis and Brooklyn, all triumphant yesterday, remained just where they were before while the New York Giants, who suffered a third straight defeat at the hands of the Cardinals yesterday, have dropped to four games behind first place.

Here is today's standing of the four contenders:
W. L. Pet. Games to Play
Chicago 81 59 .579 1
St. Louis 80 59 .575 13
Brooklyn 80 57.4 13
New York 77 63 .550 4 14

The 5 to 2 triumph of the Cardinals over the Giants in the final game of their series yesterday gave the New Yorkers a setback that will be hard for them to overcome.

The Cards put on a ninth inning rally. With the score tied they poked out four hits which, with a Giant error, produced three runs.

Chicago's slugging Cubs had little trouble in holding their slim lead against the attacks of their rivals. They hit early and late in their first game against the Phillies and with Hack Wilson's forty-ninth home run in the second and a six run rally in the sixth as the high spots, they came out with a 17 to 4 triumph.

Brooklyn downed Cincinnati almost as easily. The Robins made a fast start against Ray Kopp and finished their part of the scoring in their 7 to 3 victory in five innings as Lopez and Wright hit timely homers.

Babe Ruth continued his pursuit of Wilson in the season's home run race and finished the one day of light for the New York Yankees as they dropped completely out of the American league pennant chase. The Babe hit home 46 in the third inning, but his teammates' errors enabled the Detroit Tigers to stay in the running and finally win out in a ninth inning rally, 5 to 4.

The Philadelphia Athletics were idle.

Washington gained ground and once more is 6 1/2 games behind the leaders. Off to a six run lead in the first two innings, the Senators barely staggered through to an 8 to 7 victory over the Chicago White Sox.

Two games of no particular importance in the standings went ten innings and both were decided by 5 to 4 scores. The Boston Braves came from behind to defeat the Pittsburgh Pirates but Boston's other team, the Red Sox, lost to the St. Louis Browns.

ALLEN HALL EASILY BEATS WELKER COCHRAN

Chicago—(AP)—Allen Hall, Chicago three cushion star, has proved himself a little too good for Welker Cochran, outstanding 18.2 ballline player of the country, at the former brand of billiards.

Hall finished brilliantly yesterday and last night to win the final two blocks at a special match to win by 300 to 180. Cochran had a lead of two points at the end of four blocks but could not maintain the pace.

Hall won the afternoon block, 52 to 42 in 62 innings, and the night test, 50 to 47 in 52 innings.

COLONELS LOSE 6 TO 5 DECISION TO TOLEDO HENS

Milwaukee Wins When Balk Lets in Winning Run in Tenth Inning

CHICAGO—(AP)—St. Paul still has a mathematical chance of winning the American association pennant, but it is so small as to be almost unnoticeable.

The Saints have 10 games yet to play, while the league leading Louisville Colonels have nine games on their schedule. Should Louisville win only three of its nine games, St. Paul would have to win seven out of ten—a more than unlikely task.

St. Paul yesterday passed up a chance of whitening Louisville's margin to two and one-half games, by losing to Minneapolis while Toledo was winning its second straight over the Colonels. Butch Henline and Ernie Deberry collaborated in batting the Mud Hens to a 6 to 5 victory.

Nine runs in the first six innings, five of which resulted from Nick Cullop's fifty-first and fifty-second home runs of the season, proved too much of a handicap for St. Paul and Minneapolis won, 9 to 6.

Milwaukee won a 10-inning struggle from Kansas City, 8 to 7, when Ed Holley batted to let Gus Christensen in with the vital rally. Holley pitched only two-thirds of an inning, but yielded two hits and the fatal balk, after replacing Thomas and Bill Swift. Fred Stiller started for Milwaukee but was battered from the mound in the eighth after the Blues had combed him for 16 hits, including home runs by Barney Deberry and Miller.

In a ten inning, night game, Columbus hosted the tall-end Indians at Indianapolis, 13 to 14.

Louisville won a 10-inning struggle from Kansas City, 8 to 7, when Ed Holley batted to let Gus Christensen in with the vital rally. Holley pitched only two-thirds of an inning, but yielded two hits and the fatal balk, after replacing Thomas and Bill Swift. Fred Stiller started for Milwaukee but was battered from the mound in the eighth after the Blues had combed him for 16 hits, including home runs by Barney Deberry and Miller.

SHAMROCK V. AND ENTERPRISE RACE THIS AFTERNOON

Tom Lipton Optimistic Over Chances of Winning "Elusive Mug"

BY TOM HORGAN Associated Press Staff Writer
NEWPORT, R. I. (AP)—The fourteenth contest for the America's cup attracted a mighty fleet of yachts today.

Shamrock V, Sir Thomas Lipton's fifth challenger for the famed America's cup, and Enterprise, Harold S. Vanderbilt's defender, in the first of a series of races had to sail thirty miles over the open ocean, fifteen miles to windward or leeward, from a starting buoy nine miles off Brenton reef lightship and return.

The crew of both sloops were optimistic.

Sir Thomas characteristically was cheerful.

"I think my chances are better than ever before," he said. "Conditions are as fair as possible. In my 30 years of pursuing the elusive trophy I have always subscribed to the slogan, 'May the best boat win' and the windward relation exists between us and our adversaries are the finest sportsmen we know. We are looking forward to a close, keen, hard fought series of races."

MANY YACHTS ARRIVE
The greatest yachting fleet ever seen in Newport harbor was on hand. Palatial boats came from all along the Atlantic coast. The schooner Awesome of Liverpool, Nova Scotia, came from the maritime provinces in less than three days.

That wagers were made were large sums, money propositions, but when odds were given they usually favored Enterprise.

The sleek green sloop, flying the red hand of Ulster from her topmast, entered the international contest strictly an unknown quantity. Her crew insisted she liked light air the best, but she crossed the Atlantic under her own sail, with a short-ened rig, and yachting enthusiasts insisted she would not mind anything. King Neptune could offer her on the open ocean course.

The breeze has been very light during the week, and all the old sea dogs along the waterfront predicted that the cup boats were due to run into some heavy weather before the end of the series, to be decided on best four out of seven basis.

Both Shamrock V and Enterprise were light out for trial sails yesterday. Shamrock V set a new spinnaker, a big light headed sail that is carried up the mainmast when running before the wind, and she fairly leaped out of the water.

The British contingent on hand for the cup races included H. M. S. Heliotrope, which received a 21-gun salute as she came up the harbor.

Johnston De Forest, of the New York yacht club, was announced as the American representative aboard the Shamrock V and Colonel Sharnbrook Crawford, the British representative on the Enterprise.

Races may be sailed every day, except Sundays, unless either boat asks a respite, when a one-day intermission may be declared.

Eric, Pa.—Rosie Rosales, Cleveland, stopped at Elveland, Buffalo, N. Y. (AP); Ray Miller, Battle Creek, Mich., knocked out Matty Matthews, Kenosha, (6).

Sioux Falls, S. D.—Johnny Martin, Larchwood, Ia., outpointed Irish McKenna, Tyndall, S. D. (10).

Les Smith Tops Valley Clubbers For Season; Sonny Tornow Is Second

Kaukauna Manager Has 408 Average; Tornow Is League's Babe Ruth

LES SMITH, Kaukauna slugger and manager, leads the Fox Valley baseball league clubbers for the 1930 season, according to standings released Saturday.

The Kaw boss had a .408 average having connected for 29 hits in 71 trips to the plate. Dats Crowe, Appleton, tops Smith with a .445 mark but he played in less games.

Sonny Tornow Appleton's second baseman and the loop's Babe Ruth, has the second highest average, .355 which is picked up from 32 hits in 31 times to the plate. Tornow showed his home run record to 14 this season, almost one every game.

Two other members of the Fox Valley clubbers, are battling over the select .300 mark. Murphy has a season's average of .345 and Len Smith, .325.

BAY PACKERS ARE READY FOR FIRST GAME OF SEASON

Clash With Oshkosh All Stars Sunday Afternoon at City Stadium

GREEN BAY—The 1930 Packers football model starts clicking Sunday afternoon in a non-league encounter against the Oshkosh All Stars and it is expected that some 7,500 will be on hand in the City stadium to see the national champions amble over the gridiron greens. The kick off is at 2 p. m.

Never before in professional football history here has an opening game attracted so much interest. Oshkosh is coming 'loaded for bear' and the news has been passed down the Valley that the Sawdust City eleven has a surprise in store for the 1929 pennant winners.

Oshkosh has lined up a first class football machine. Headed by Earl Britton, who helped Red Grange write football history at Illinois, the squad includes Nason of Lawrence, Elzer of Carroll, Hauser of Ripon and a flock of other gridlers, who in their 'rah-rah' days have displayed considerable ability in chasing the cowhide.

HERBER WITH BAYS
The Packers will have all but four of the pennant winning machine on the field against Oshkosh. Those missing are Mink, guard; Ashmore and Kern, tackles and Eddie Kotal halfback. In their places will be Joe Kresky, Red Sletty, Wvert Englemann, Ken Radick, Paul Fitzgibbons, Al Bloodgood, Duke Hannay and 'Flash' Herber.

Green Bay's three all-Americans: Mike Michalske, Lavvie Dilwig and Lanky Lou Levellen will again be in uniform along with such other favorites as 'Jugger' Earpe, Dick O'Donnell, Bo Molenda, Red Dunn, Johnny Blood, Tom Nash, Jim Bowdoin and Cal Hubbard.

Spectators at Sunday's game will get their first view of Green Bay's revamped football stadium. The seating capacity is now close to 13,000. The big grandstands have been replaced in every other additional foot of space around the gridiron.

The teams will line up as follows:
GREEN BAY OSHKOSH
Left End Brendendick, Hotchkiss Left Tackle Hauser, Hall
Sleight, Hannay Left Guard
Michalske, Woodin Loabs, Brennan, Bloomquist Center
Earpe, Darling, Zuerer Rose, Strykowski, Herman Right Guard
Bowdoin, Kresky, Schipper, Caffie Right Tackle
Perry, Hubbard Dratz, Dunham
Right End Bizer, Ladwig, Jensen

Quarter Back Martin, Klenz, O'Keefe Bloodgood
Left Half Back Roach, Gelbel
Levellen, Zuidmiller, Nason, Gelbel Right Half Back Curtiss, Stilt McCrory, Englemann, Full Back
Fitzgibbons Britton, Schweski, Griewski

Referee: Meyer Morris, Chicago.
Umpire: E. H. Erditz, Oshkosh.
Head Linesman: Bill Doyle, Menominee.

PLAY LAST GAMES IN L. F. LEAGUE

Athletics Meet Neenah at Interlake Park; Chuters at Menasha

W. L. Pet.
Wrightstown 12 7 .532
Athletics 11 7 .511
Menasha 11 7 .511
Little Chute 9 9 .511
Kaukauna 7 9 .438
Neenah 5 13 .278

SUNDAY'S GAMES
Wrightstown at Kaukauna.
Little Chute at Menasha.
Neenah at Appleton.

The curtain will be run down on the league schedule in the Little Fox League Sunday afternoon but the season's play will not come to an end. Several postponed games are on the books and will be played after Sunday.

The last scheduled games will have Neenah K. C. team coming to Interlake Park to meet Appleton, Little Chute invading Menasha, and Wrightstown over at Kaukauna. Wrightstown leads the loop this week but Menasha and Appleton have a chance to overtake the advantage by playing postponed games. Indications are, however, that the race over the last week probably will be more interesting than at any other time this season.

BIG TEN COACHES IN CHICAGO TODAY

Chicago—(AP)—Western conference football officials, coaches and assistants, were in Chicago today to establish standard interpretations of grid rules for this fall.

The screen pass was among the questions expected to assume an important place in the discussion, along with out of bounds problems.

San Francisco—Mannuel Quintana, Tampa, Fla., outpointed Eddie Murock, Tulsa, Okla., (10).

San Francisco—Harry Garbell, Chicago, outpointed Joe C. Green, Sacramento, (6).

ICES RECOVER AFTER DROP IN EARLY TRADING

Market Is Professional With Little Activity Except Among Floor Men

BY CLAUDE A. JAGGER

Associated Press Financial Editor

New York (AP)—Fresh bullishness gave the stock market sufficient resiliency to close about steady, after a further drop during early trading.

The market was highly professional and price fluctuations represented the activity of floor traders.

Investors were disappointed by the weakness of the weekend selling, when they tried to buy back shares in the last hour, found prices had risen. Leading shares rallied from the morning's low levels, but failed to regain much of yesterday's losses.

During the first hour a long list of shares dropped 1 to 5 points, the American Tobacco B stock making the maximum decline. These losses were largely recovered, however, as several shares closed unchanged or 1 point higher.

American Water Works was a firm spot, rising 4 1/2. Shares making net gains of 10 points or more included American Can, and, in addition, American Can, Adams, McKeesport, Locomotive, and Newton Steel. U. S. Steel closed unchanged. During early drop, shares selling off 3 to 5 points or more included U. S. Steel, Westinghouse, and Public Service of N. J. The closing tone was buoyant. Total sales approximated 1,000,000 shares.

Investors were encouraged by the fact that the short selling yesterday and today inspired a negligible amount of real liquidation of long holdings. Professional efforts on the outside of the market have had to the same problem that the bull campaign has, that is, general speculative apathy on the part of the public.

Business reports appearing at the end of the week were still weak, but the cheerful feeling since the middle of August, but were evidently decisive enough to encourage general buying of stocks. Some business houses have reported a slight increase in public buying this week, but others have noticed no change.

Weekend reports from the steel industry indicated slight change in orders during the next few days. Westinghouse and Tube plants keep their mills working at this rate during the next week. A recent report from the Newton Steel plant was explained by a report that negotiations for a merger with the Corbin McKinney Steel Co. were under way. Such a transaction would give Newton the Eaton-Mather plant. "The steel trade," feels that the "smaller units" may be merged as a result of the depression, the larger organizations have greater ability.

Banking interest will be turned to Sept. 15 income tax collections. Treasury financing next week, government is expected to make a "customary" overdraft, of some $100,000,000 at the federal reserve. In the middle of the tax collections, the market, the overdraft resulted in a flood of funds being thrown into the money market, but banking experts expect means will be employed to prevent such a "development" week, although extremely plentiful money expected for a few days.

RISING LAMB PRICES FEATURED ON MARKET

Over 5,000 Head Purchased by Shippers; Reach Unusually High Levels

Chicago (AP)—Steadily rising lamb prices in the face of the heaviest week's run since the corresponding week in 1929 featured the live stock market for the last week. Dressed lamb prices weakened as coolers were overstocked, but shippers continued to support the market each day, and took nearly 45,000 head, usually from the better grades of natives and range offerings. Prices for fat lambs show a 40 to 50c advance for the week, closing at a top of $9.65 paid yesterday for rangers, which compares to $8.85 at the low time a week ago.

Two years ago light and medium weight hogs were on sale today to make a market but the better grades of 180-210 lb hogs were held at $11.00-11.15, steady, with the best prices obtained yesterday. The market consisted of 2,000 hoidovers and 2,000 fresh hogs, all that were left after packers had taken 4,000 of the 6,000 received on direct billing. Prices for light and heavy weight hogs show a slight decline for the week, the top today at $11.15 comparing to $11.30 last Saturday.

Trade prices showed a widely divergent trend this week as all light steers and yearlings mounted 50c to the highest levels in three months, setting the top at $13.00, while all medium and heavy steers were 50c lower. She stock was less regular, but closed on a steady basis for the week, while bulls were strong to 25c higher.

Arrivals for the week stand 53,223 cattle, 115,616 hogs and 135,198 sheep, against 43,996 cattle, 90,931 cattle, and 127,447 hogs and 116,230 sheep for corresponding week a year ago.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK

BABSON PREDICTS BUSINESS WILL BE BETTER THIS FALL

Analysis of Statistics Provides Optimistic Outlook, He Says

Babson Park, Mass.—Statistics, upon careful analysis, justify an optimistic outlook, at least for the coming fall. Mr. reason for this statement is as follows: consumption has fallen off only about 10 per cent taking all lines of industries and all sections of the country. Of course, in certain lines this fall falling off has been greater, and in other lines it has been less; but on the average, consumption has not fallen off more than 10 per cent. This applies not only to retail sales, but also is true when these sales are corrected as to deterioration, wear and tear, etc. Yet, while consumption has fallen off only 10 per cent, production has fallen off 20 per cent, and the transportation of goods has fallen off 30 per cent. This means that inventories both on the part of manufacturers, jobbers, and retailers, are becoming abnormally low.

If consumption, production and transportation had fallen off about the same percentage, there might be no logical reason for improving business this fall. Under the circumstances, however, it is very probable that there will be a clearing of orders and congestion of freight between now and Christmas in certain lines and certain sections. I am making no forecast as to 1931, but I am certainly optimistic regarding this fall as to commodities, money rates, general business and even the stock market. It is just as evident today that business is now bound to improve as it was evident a year ago that the high price of early 1929 could not be kept up.

SEE BARGAINS

During a period of sharply falling commodity prices, buyers always become extremely cautious. They resist the temptation to buy at the lowest levels possible. This aggravates the price decline, and as a result many commodities sell far below their intrinsic value.

That is what has happened in the case of a number of commodities in the past few months. While no business man is justified in speculating in commodities, he should take advantage of these extremely low prices to accumulate the supplies which he will need for use in his business.

Experience has shown that the average man buys only on a rising market. The way to get people to buy copper, iron or lead is to mark up the price. This same principle is very evident in the stock market. The more the market goes down, the more people wish to sell, and the more the market goes up, the more people wish to buy. In all departments of industry and commerce, a rising market is a great stimulant to business. Now, it is impossible to have a rising market continually and hence, prices must be knocked down once in a while in order to have rising markets follow. As people will not buy during a falling market, hence it is to the business man's interest to have the decline as rapid as possible, so it will not last long. Hence, an ideal situation existed during the past eight months. The declines in all commodities and investments have been rapid and abrupt, and many are now at a level where it is an easy matter to build up again a rising market.

BETTER OUTLOOK

The general downward trend of employment has now turned, and the outlook for fall is higher. Higher employment and payroll totals. There still will be much unemployment this winter, but improvement in general business will induce a somewhat higher rate of industrial operations, and a firmer commodity price trend will encourage producers to take on more work. There will still be wage cutting in certain lines, but there is no indication of a general slashing of wage levels, and purchasing power ought to show some improvement. The purchasing power of the workers, moreover, is helped by the lower cost of living, inasmuch as a dollar will go further in the purchase of household necessities, food, fuel, rent, and light than it would a year ago. This tends to offset to some extent lower wages and part-time work or unemployment.

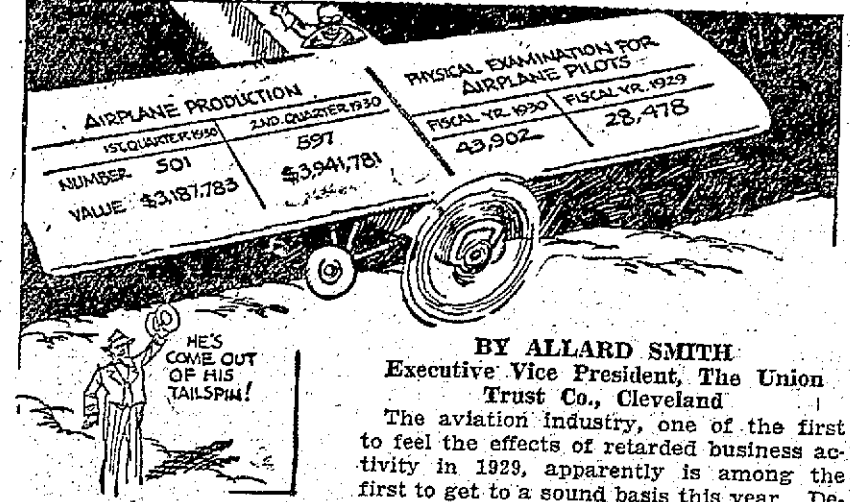

FARM OUTLOOK GOOD

On the whole, crops, while damaged, may be considered a less unfavorable factor in the business outlook than was believed to be the case in August. Higher prices for farm products tend to offset to some extent the loss in yield. Therefore, the purchasing power of the agricultural belt, while, of course, affected, will not be so far below last year as many have prophesied. In fact certain parts of the farming section will be better off this year than they were last. Agriculture seems to have definite turned the corner and should improve.

While low money rates in themselves do not make better business as has been proven by the existence of very low rates for some months, nevertheless, they are much more favorable to business recovery than high rates would be. While we may see slightly firmer rates for money during the next two months owing to treasury financing, and the seasonal fall increase in demand for business credit, nevertheless, there is no indication of stringency of any kind in the money markets.

Some small business men in the interior of the country still complain that loans are hard to get. This is because some of the smaller banks are still tied up with frozen loans on stock exchange collateral. A moderate improvement in stock prices would thaw out many of these loans and place the banks in a better position to serve the small business man. Such an improvement is not at all unlikely this fall. On the whole, the money situation should but it has left the industry in stronger and more competent hands and signs of its recovery are in evidence.

During the first six months overproduction was corrected with an output of 785 airplanes against 1415 in the same period of 1929. Deliveries over this period exceeded output by 35 planes. In the second quarter production of 597 planes for the commercial market showed an upturn over the 501 units produced in the first three months of the year. In July air mail lines carried 13,362 more pounds of mail than in June.

Aviation provides a commodity essential to our modern economic life—speed. The quick transportation of people, mail and merchandise is vital to our national welfare and progress. On August 1 there were 27,697 scheduled 109,597 airplane miles.

The latest government figures show there are now 1657 recognized airports or landing fields in the United States and more than 1000 cities and towns have plans for airports projected. These figures become significant when it is realized that future airways await only the development of adequate landing fields.

During the fiscal year of 1930 a total of 43,002 persons took physical examinations for pilots' licenses, according to government reports. This figure surpasses all previous years combined, and 25,041 of this number were taking their first examinations.

DIAMOND T TRUCKS NOTED FOR POWER, UNUSUAL FITNESS

Famous Motor Vehicles Distributed Here by Barber Auto Service

The Diamond T Manufacturing Co. enjoys a wholesome reputation throughout the industry for the sturdiness and performance of its heavy duty and light duty trucks, and in the 25 years it has been in business, the company has seen more than 300 competitive makers come and go, according to Ed. Barber, head of the Barber Auto Service at 1300 E. Wisconsin Ave. Mr. Barber is local distributor of Diamond T trucks.

"The Diamond T product is noted for its outstanding fitness for use and every hauling need, and is offered at prices materially lower than competitive makes of comparable efficiency," Mr. Barber stated. "The line includes trucks of every capacity, from swift bevel drive models of 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 12, 14, 16, 18, 20, 22, 24, 26, 28, 30, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, 48, 50, 52, 54, 56,
